Pope Pius Suffers Sudden Illness

Pontiff Collapses; Hours Later Physicians Say He is Improving

Heart Affected

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope Pius suffered a serious heart attack this morning and a trustworthy Vatican informant said this afternoon the Holy Father had been placed in an oxygen tent.

The oxygen treatment was suspended, however, after the difficulty had been remedied and the Vatican announced officially the Holy Father's condition was improving this afternoon.

Vatican attendants said tonight the Pope talked cheerfully with his doctors this afternoon.

They said he was attended only by his two male nurses from 4.15 p.m., when his personal physician, Dr. Aminta Milani, left the bedroom, until 7.05 p.m., when Dr. Milani returned.

This led prelates to discredit rumors His Holiness had suffered a second heart attack shortly before 6 p.m., as reported in London.

The 81-year-old Pontiff was stricken suddenly as he was about to leave his private apartment for an official antechamber for his daily round of private audiences with heads of church administrative bodies.

A Vatican medical bulletin described his illness as cardiac asthma. Another informant said it was myocardial degeneration of the muscular part of the wall of the heart).

Secretaries who saw the Pope overcome by dizziness immediately carried him to his room and put him to bed. Physicians were summoned.

Cardinals and prelates who were to have been received in audience were informed of his illness when they arrived at the Vatican.

The Pontiff collapsed and sank to the floor when he was stricken, but members of his household said he remained conscious.

STATEMENT ISSUED

A Vatican medical bulletin issued at noon said:

"The Holy Father after celebrating holy mass this morning was stricken suddenly with an attack of cardiac asthma. He now is improving."

According to the Vatican news service, Dr. Aminta Milani, when called, advised a day of rest, and the Pope remained in bed.

Shortly afterward the Holy Father was visited by Lorenzo Cardinal Lauri, chief penitentiary of the church or the cardinal who sets penances for sins.

Cardinal Lauri's office will require him on the approach of the Pope's death to read a profession of faith to the Pontiff and give him absolution. He also will be among those present at the bedside when extreme unction is administered.

However, the cardinal remained with His Holiness about an hour and then departed. This was taken in Vatican circles to indicate the Pope's condition was causing no immediate alarm.

STRENGTH TAXED

Yesterday Pope Pius attended a long ceremony for the discussion of a treatise on biblical interpretation and delivered an address in Latin. This exertion was believed to have taxed his strength.

The Pontiff participated on the last three Sundays in beatification ceremonies which involved considerable strain.

He became gravely ill two years ago and it was feared he would not recover. Suffering from diseases of the heart and circulatory system, he endured great pain for several weeks. His eventual recovery, to a degree permitting him to renew his normal tasks, astonished all in his household.

The Pope's sister, Donna Camilla Ratti, was informed at once of the attack today and hurried in an automobile to the Vatican, where she handed attendants a letter for her brother. Members of the Pope's household said they assumed the note contained words of encouragement and hopes for a speedy recovery.

MANY SAY PRAYERS

Catholics throughout the world were expected to pray for the Pope's recovery, as they did during his serious illness of two years ago.

L'Osservatore Romano, Vatican newspaper, said the "emotion which immediately spread" after the news of the attack became known "shows once more the fervid filial love which surrounds the Holy Father and assures that most ardent prayer will begin everywhere that his strong constitution will overcome his illness and that he will be able to return to the most high affairs of his Apostolic ministry with the blessings and admiration of his children."

THE WEATHER

VICTORIA, 8 a.m. today—Pressure remains high over British Columbia, but it appears to be low west of Vancouver Island. The weather has been fair in all parts of this province and temperature is moderating in the interior. It has been cold with wind and snow on the prairie.

Bar for Outside Trucks at Nanaimo

No B.C. Licenses for Vancouver Men to Handle Scrap Iron Cargo

The provincial government will not grant carriers' licenses to Vancouver trucks which went to Nanaimo to haul 500 tons of scrap metal to a barge from a storage yard that is being picketed, it was announced today.

Hon. F. M. MacPherson, Minister of Public Works, said the department took the position there were sufficient trucks licensed in the district now and no further licenses were necessary.

Hon. George S. Pearson, Minister of Labor, said the government had received numerous wires urging the licenses should not be granted, but none in favor.

PICKETS ON GROUND

NANAIMO (CP)—Truck drivers from Vancouver today were still awaiting licenses from the British Columbia Public Works Department before attempting to haul 500 tons of scrap metal to a barge from a storage yard here which has been guarded for a week by pickets protesting the shipment of the material to Japan "for war purposes."

Applications were made at the provincial courthouse here and forwarded to department heads in Victoria.

Pickets, supported by labor and various other organizations, continued to keep watch over the storage yard and Nanaimo truck drivers, who previously had refused to haul the metal, expressed opposition to the use of drivers from outside the district.

Provincial police, strengthened by additional members brought here since the picketing began, were watching the situation. No attempt has been made, however, to remove the pickets.

Two Platoons for Oak Bay Firemen

A bill under which the new Oak Bay fire department would be brought under the two-platoon system and the hours of work for its firemen reduced was introduced in the Legislature yesterday by J. Howard Forester, Liberal, Burrard, as an amendment to the existing two-platoon law.

Victoria, along with Vancouver and New Westminster, is already forced to have the two-platoon system, which gives firemen a working week of 60 hours.

Many other municipalities are voluntarily operating the same system, Mr. Forester explained, but there are four, including Oak Bay, which do not.

The bill in effect forces all municipalities with organized fire brigades to adopt the two-platoon system.

PRAYERS OFFERED—For an early recovery from illness of His Holiness Pope Pius XI (above) petitions ascended today from many parts of the world.

Adam Enters Mayoral Race

City's Senior Alderman To Oppose Mayor McGavin and John Dean

James Adam, senior alderman of Victoria, today entered the contest for mayor. This will make the contest three-cornered with Mayor Andrew McGavin and John Dean as the other candidates.

Concern over the manner in which the transportation and power franchises were being handled was a determining factor in his decision to seek the chief magistrate's chair, Alderman Adam said today.

He considered the franchise questions the most important concerning the taxpayers, and his feeling was that the whole matter was not being conducted satisfactorily.

Alderman Adam felt the most good could be accomplished by having a comprehensive transportation system for Greater Victoria. As 10 months had passed since the B.C. Electric announced it was not interested in renewing a long term contract for street cars, enough time should be taken for the consideration of a scheme for the whole of Greater Victoria before an irrevocable step was taken on any new franchise, he said.

He believed an urgent necessity for reestablishment of better relations between the city and outside municipalities had arisen, and favored a Greater Victoria plan, which would call for regular monthly meetings between the mayor and reeves on matter of mutual interest.

On the city manager plan, Alderman Adam stated that system had worked successfully in some cities and, if elected, he would appoint a committee to give immediate study to the proposal as it would affect Victoria.

With 12 years of continuous service to his credit, Alderman Adam ranks as the senior member of the council. For the last two years, since the post was made permanent, he has been acting mayor, and during his lengthy service has acted on every standing committee.

This year he was chairman of the parks board and has retained his interest in the Old Men's Home committee, which he headed for 11 years. He is also a member of the business and trades development committee, the airport group and the Victoria-Saanich beaches and parks committee.

Today he had made no immediate plans for public meetings.

Announce Changes In Army Commands

OTTAWA (CP)—Transfer of Brigadier R. O. Alexander from command of Military District No. 4 (Montreal) to the command of District No. 2 (Toronto) was announced at National Defence headquarters here today.

New Gales Follow U.S. Thanksgiving Storm; 34 Dead

Snow Piled Up in Eastern States and Air Traffic Crippled

Big Highway Toll

NEW YORK (AP)—Forty-mile winds, piling up snow and sleet over an area already seriously crippled by the worst Thanksgiving storm in years, threatened additional distress for transportation facilities throughout the United States today.

At least 34 deaths were attributed to what was winter's first real onslaught for most sections. Air traffic was at a standstill in the east last night.

New England reported the highest holiday death toll, with 10 auto fatalities.

At Milan, New Hampshire, Wilbur Potter, a farmer and the father of seven children, was missing in a driving snowstorm.

Snow covered most of Ohio. At Selma, Iowa, it was so cold Gail Burkett, who had escaped from a prison camp Sunday, spent his last money on a ticket to Keokuk, Iowa, to surrender and re-enter the warm state prison.

California Town In Fire's Path

Women and Children Leave Crestline as Forest Blaze Nears

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Women and children left Crestline, in the San Bernardino mountains, today when the forest fire began sweeping toward the little town.

Meanwhile, on another fire front, in Los Angeles County, a new menace arose on the ridge of a thickly populated canyon when an extensive backfire was whipped up suddenly by an adverse wind. It threatened to send the fire down the main slope of Mandeville canyon, where there are many pretentious homes.

Mrs. John Hay Whitney, noted sportswoman, was among those who left Mandeville as the flames crept ever closer.

Walter Schultz, who led a caravan of three autos containing 15 women and children into San Bernardino, said the flames were within a mile of Crestline.

The smoke was so thick, he said, visibility was less than 50 feet.

Many others, Schultz said, left Crestline by way of a back road into the Mohave Desert. Crestline numbers 400 all-year residents.

The San Bernardino fire, reported to be wholly out of control, places in jeopardy the highly-developed Crest Forest District and its 4,000 cabins, residences, stores and hotels.

Crest Forest, comprising a dozen communities, and honeycombed by twisting roads lined with homes, is a major centre of a recreational area which in recent years has been visited by 2,000,000 persons annually.

All available men, many of whom had assisted in partially controlling the fire on two lower fronts, were rushed into the district.

Fifteen fire trucks, all that could be spared from other sectors of the blaze which already had destroyed the $750,000 Arrowhead Springs Hotel, were sent.

DAMAGE $5,000,000

The latest break in southern California's most serious forest fire situation in years came at a time when thousands of exhausted fighters apparently were nearing success in their efforts to control blazes in four counties, which already have caused damage estimated to approach $5,000,000.

Gasoline Judgment Tuesday

VANCOUVER (CP) — The British Columbia Court of Appeal will hand down its decision next Tuesday, Chief Justice Martin announced today, on the appeal of the Crown from an injunction restraining the provincial fuel board from enforcing a gasoline price reduction order.

The appeal court concluded hearing the appeal last Monday. If the injunction is sustained, the fuel board will be unable to enforce its order until validity of the British Columbia Coal and Petroleum Products Control Board Act is decided.

The order would have reduced gasoline prices over a range of three to six cents a gallon in various parts of the province.

NO SURRENDER OF NEW GUINEA

Australia Will Not Return Island to Germany, Says Premier

MELBOURNE (CP-Havas) — Prime Minister Joseph Lyons today said Australia has no intention of surrendering New Guinea to Germany. Prime Minister Chamberlain, he declared, had never suggested any such retrocession. The Commonwealth administers the former Germany colony under a mandate from the League of Nations.

PRIME MINISTER LYONS

PIROW CHANGES MIND

BERLIN (AP)—Oswald Pirow, South African Defence Minister, made it clear today he had given up whatever plans he may have had for discussion of Germany's colonial demands during his present visit.

When he left South Africa, informed quarters said, he was prepared to listen to Germany's demands, but by the time he arrived his frame of mind was such that he said "Colonies are one subject I am not interested in."

At Berchtesgaden, Bavaria, yesterday, Chancellor Hitler talked with Mr. Pirow, and then received King Carol and Crown Prince Michael of Roumania.

NO LARGE BRITISH ARMY TO EUROPE

Chamberlain Refuses France Pledge of Big Force If War Comes

LONDON (CP)—The British government has declined to give France a binding guarantee to send a full-scale expeditionary force to the continent of Europe in the event of an outbreak of war.

This was learned in authoritative quarters tonight when Prime Minister Chamberlain and Viscount Halifax, Foreign Secretary, arrived in London after their talks in Paris with Premier Edouard Daladier and Foreign Minister Georges Bonnet. The conferences further cemented Anglo-French solidarity, particularly on defence problems.

CANADA INTERESTED

The decision is of vital interest to Canada, because if Britain should not send an expeditionary force it is extremely unlikely Canada would be asked to send one.

As compensation for the loss of 41 Czech divisions which disappeared as potential allies in the Munich settlement, France asked Great Britain to give a guarantee that the 13 divisions of the British Territorial Army would be sent to Europe immediately, following the regular army, at the outbreak of war.

The purpose would be to fill the gap between the regular army, comparatively small, and a conscript army which would take weeks to train.

Mr. Chamberlain, however, declined to give a guarantee of that sort, and it is understood the position remains the same as before—Britain's contribution in the event of war would be concentrated on the sea, air and supplies, certainly at the start of hostilities.

France May Buy Canadian-built Bombing Planes

Purchase of Aircraft Among Provisions of Anglo-French Pact

Chamberlain Home

PARIS — Prime Minister Chamberlain and Foreign Secretary Viscount Halifax returned to London today after completing an agreement on the co-ordination of British and French defence forces under one clause of which France may buy bombing planes built in Canada.

The two statesmen had a final few minutes' talk with Premier Daladier and Foreign Minister Georges Bonnet before their departure.

They left by train at 10.30 a.m. (2.30 a.m., P.S.T.).

The decision to form the defence forces of the two countries into a co-ordinated system was widely hailed by French cabinet ministers, who repeated the declarations of Mr. Chamberlain and M. Daladier that Great Britain and France would seek peace with Germany and Italy, but "just to be sure," would arm to the teeth.

TERMS OF AGREEMENT

The new Anglo-French agreement was said to provide that production of all war supplies will be co-ordinated and that France will purchase 6,000 bombing planes, many of which may be built in Canada, with payment assured by British loans to France.

Army, navy and air force staffs of the countries will be in permanent consultation.

A common policy of buying and giving credit, it is said, followed by the two countries in their dealings with central European nations to enable them to keep out of Germany's sphere of influence.

Naval Activity At Esquimalt

H.M.C.S. Nootka on Official Trial and Comox Is Delivered

Unusual activity prevailed at the Esquimalt dockyard today with H.M.C.S. Nootka undergoing her official trial and the delivery of H.M.C.S. Comox to the navy. The commissioning of the Nootka and Comox increases the floating strength at Esquimalt to seven vessels, four destroyers, the Ottawa, Restigouche, Fraser and St. Laurent, the two new minesweepers and the patrol vessel Armentieres.

It is the first time in Canada's naval history that such a large fleet has been assembled in the naval harbor here at one time.

With Lieut.-Commander H. Kingsley, R.C.N., on the bridge, the Nootka, product of Yarrows Ltd., left Esquimalt at 8.40 this morning to undergo builders' trials. The captain was Capt. Charles I. Harris, representing Yarrows Ltd.

The ship was run over the measured mile between William Head and Albert Head, underwent full-power steaming tests, turning and other manoeuvres and gunnery tests.

The Comox, Lieut.-Commander H. W. S. Soulsby, R.C.N., arrived at Esquimalt from Vancouver shortly before 11 this morning to be turned over to the naval authorities. She was built by the Burrard Drydock Company at North Vancouver.

General Strike In France Nov. 30

Labor Confederation Issues Call as It Opposes Daladier

Martial Law Talk

PARIS (AP) — The General Confederation of Labor tonight ordered all its allied unions, embracing 5,000,000 workers, to take part in a 24-hour general strike next Wednesday, November 30, as a gesture of protest against Premier Daladier's labor program.

This coincided with a Socialist Party decision to demand the Daladier government's resignation and vigorous government measures to halt a wave of strikes in which workers occupied factories.

Several thousand Paris workers waiting for their suburban trains in Paris' North Station showed the temper of labor by starting an anti-government demonstration with cries of "Daladier to the scaffold!"

A force of Mobile Guardsmen rushed to the station and cleared the platforms, forcing the demonstrators into the train or out of the station and making a score or arrests.

The decision to demand Daladier's resignation was taken at a meeting of party leaders, presided over by former Premier Leon Blum.

Parliamentary deputies said M. Daladier was planning to decree a state of siege, similar to martial law, unless the strikes were mastered quickly.

Some deputies said they understood the Premier even considered the arrest of former Socialist Premier Leon Blum; Leon Jouhaux, General Confederation of Labor Secretary, and Maurice Thorez, Communist party secretary, along with dissolution of the Communist and Socialist parties.

Estimates were that 45,000 strikers were out near Lille in the north and 40,000 in the Paris region. Strikes brokes out early today in western factories.

PLANT BARRICADED

Shortly after dawn 5,000 Mobile Guards and police were ordered to dislodge 1,000 strikers who had remained throughout the night barricaded in one of the Renault automobile plants on an island in the Seine near Paris. They were told to "take the plant by storm if necessary."

Twenty-three strikers and Mobile Guards were sent to hospitals after the first clash of the strike wave, at the main Renault plant in Paris about midnight.

Under the Confederation of Labor banner and backed by the Communist and Socialist parties and war veterans' organizations, the strikes are aimed at:

1. Daladier's abolition of the 40-hour week, strike leaders contending business is insufficient to make longer hours necessary.

2. The government's tax decrees which labor claims favor the rich.

FEAR DICTATORSHIP

Behind these specific reasons are suspicions of labor that:

1. Daladier has designs on dictatorship.

2. He intends to continue the policy which led to the Munich Czechoslovak partition by making new concessions to Nazi Germany.

Premier Daladier already has given proof of his intention to use strong methods. A hundred strikers were held at police stations after expulsion by force from factories. All public demonstrations were forbidden.

Poles and Czechs Exchange Shots

Troops of Poland Cross Border, Go Beyond Conceded Territory

BRATISLAVA, Czechoslovakia (CP-Havas) — Shots were exchanged today between Czechoslovak forces and Polish troops that crossed the frontier at Czaca, it was officially announced here. Slovak provincial government officials charged the Poles fired first.

A communique issued by the Slovak propaganda commission said the Poles had crossed the border, occupied one whole commune, and were continuing their march toward Svroinoveo.

The area entered was supposed to have remained within Slovakia, according to the decision of the border delimitation commission, the communique said.

The communique said Polish delimitation commissioners arrived yesterday by car at Orava. There the people put up barricades in the road and refused them entry. Stones were thrown at the cars, the windows were broken. Two of the commissioners were slightly injured.

ANGLO-FRENCH WARNING

PARIS (AP) — The Prime Ministers of Great Britain and France warned Poland today against invading Czechoslovakia's eastern territory.

Alarmed by reports from their ambassadors in Warsaw and Prague, Prime Minister Chamberlain and Premier Daladier instructed their countries' Warsaw representatives to caution the Polish government against the "danger of such action."

The statesmen were informed Poland had massed 12 divisions of troops along the frontier of Ruthenia and that Czechoslovakia was sending heavy reinforcements to the eastern provinces.

If the tension continued, informed quarters said, Mr. Chamberlain and M. Daladier were agreed it might be necessary to call an immediate conference of the "Munich Big Four"—Chancellor Hitler, Premier Mussolini and themselves. If Germany moved to prevent Polish occupation of Ruthenia, which would give Poland a common frontier with Hungary, it was said France and Great Britain would back up Hitler.

MANPOWER IN BRITAIN LISTED

Public Will Be Surprised At Extent of Registers, Says Inskip

MANCHESTER (CP-Havas)—The British government already has manpower registers of "various sorts," Sir Thomas Inskip, Minister for Co-ordination of Defence, said here today.

"There is a vast amount of information about available manpower which will be available in the future," he added.

When a statement is made in Parliament next week on the reorganization of this reserve manpower, the public will be "agreeably surprised" to know "that we have registers of various sorts of which hundreds know very little," Sir Thomas said.

New Gold High In Britain

Price Rises to $34.78 an Ounce as Sterling Exchange Rate Weakens

LONDON (AP) — Demand of hoarders of gold and further depreciation of the pound sterling sent the price of the metal here to a new record of 149 shillings 10½ pence an ounce today. At the current rate of exchange this worked out at $34.78 an ounce.

About £881,000 (approximately $4,088,900) in gold was taken at the time of price fixing.

The United States dollar improved to $4.64 to the pound compared with yesterday's close of $4.64¾.

The gold price was 8½ pence above yesterday's official price and 1½ pence over that commanded in yesterday's late unofficial dealings.

Continued weakness in sterling exchange restricted trading in the stock market today, but prices held fairly steady. Copper stocks sold higher and the industrial list was up a shade.

Cement shares were exceptionally weak and rubbers and oils eased. British government issues closed fractionally off, while trans-Atlantics were about unchanged. German bonds lost a point.

Windows Smashed in Hungary's Capital

BUDAPEST (AP) — Political demonstrations with occasional window smashing broke out in Budapest today as the Hungarian Regent, Admiral Nicholas Horthy, sought a premier to succeed Bela Imredi, who resigned Wednesday.

Imredi quit because of criticism he had failed to get Czechoslvoakia to cede Carpatho-Ukraine (Ruthenia) to Hungary. Admiral Horthy yesterday adjourned parliament for a week while endeavoring to get a new government.

Anti-Jewish Riot In Johannesburg

Czechs Look for Border Guarantee

Masaryk Tells London New Frontiers Delimited; Poles March In

LONDON (AP) — Czechoslovakia today told Britain she "assumed" the international guarantees promised at Munich for the shrunken frontiers of the little republic would now be made effective.

Jan Masaryk, Czechoslovakia minister to Britain, sent a note to the Foreign Office stating that as a result of negotiations with Germany, Hungary and Poland—to all of which Czechoslovakia ceded territory—the final delimiting of the new borders had been achieved.

The note said it therefore was assumed the guarantees stipulated in the annex to the Munich accord of September 29 automatically would become effective.

By that annex Great Britain and France repeated a previous offer to guarantee "the new boundaries of the Czechoslovak state against unprovoked aggression." Germany and Italy agreed that when "the question of Polish and Hungarian minorities in Czechoslovakia has been settled," they also would "give a guarantee to Czechoslovakia."

Vancouver Woman Pan-Pacific Head

VANCOUVER (CP) — Mrs. James Campbell, of Vancouver, prominent in university women's club work in Canada, has been named unanimously chairman of the Canadian committee of the Pan-Pacific Women's Association, it was announced here today by Miss Mary L. Bollert, international president.

Seek Man Who Made Faces at Duchess

HOVE, Eng. (AP) — Police of this seaside town were searching today for a dark-haired young man on the complaint of the Duchess of Norfolk, wife of England's premier duke.

The Duchess, who lives with her husband, and five-month-old daughter at ancient Arundel Castle near here, told authorities she was followed around at the "autumn fayre" here Wednesday by a stranger "who made grimaces at me."

Police were alarmed at the report because only Wednesday the body of four-year-old Patricia Owens was found near Hove after a 72-hour hunt and an unemployed ice cream salesman was arrested the same day and charged with murder.

Canada Planes for Europe

Report France May Have Bombers Built Comes While Factories Expanding

OTTAWA (CP)—The French government indicated its interest in Canada as a source of aircraft supplies some months ago, Defence Department officials indicated today. They were commenting on reports from Paris of the possibility France may purchase airplanes from this country.

Last July M. Potez, French industralist, visited Canada and made a survey of conditions in Quebec. While little was elicited as to his purposes, it was generally understood M. Potez had been commissioned by the French government to explore the situation in Canada.

Since then important developments have ensued in this country. On the promptings and in conformity with the plan of the British government for establishment of an aircraft industry in Canada on a long-term basis, Canadian airplane manufacturers have organized themselves with a view to co-ordinating all efforts towards the output of various types of planes.

It is considered the material expansion which will follow on the initial British order, which has been reported as $10,000,000, will be sufficient to put the Canadian industry on a basis to supply also the French requirements.

As in the case of the United Kingdom, the French government will conduct whatever negotiations may be necessary with the Canadian industrialists direct, it was said.

TALKS IN LONDON

MONTREAL (CP)—H. M. Pasmore, president of Fairchild Aircraft Limited, said today on his arrival from Europe that he "understood discussions were underway" in London a week ago on a plan for purchases by the French government of warplanes built in Canada.

"But aside from that, I cannot say," he stated.

11,000 Animals At Show

CHICAGO (AP) — More than 11,000 animals bidding for admission to the top layers of livestock's aristocracy awaited today the call to the judging arenas at the International Livestock Exposition.

They were sent to the international amphitheatre from five Canadian provinces, as well as from 33 states. The exposition, 39th reuewal of the big agricultural show, will formally open tomorrow and run eight days.

The cash value of the show cattle, sheep, swine and horses was estimated at $5,000,000.

Forty-one nations are represented in the International Hay and Grain Show held in conjunction with the livestock exposition.

From farms of 45 states, Canada, Hawaii and Puerto Rico came the vanguard of 1,200 boys and girls to compete in the 17th annual 4-H club congress.

Bigger B.C. Subsidy Urged

OTTAWA (CP)—British Columbia and Prince Edward Island made brief supplementary submissions to the Royal Commission on Dominion-Provincial Relations here today, completing their material prepared to be placed before the board.

British Columbia restated its case for increased debt allowance and subsidies from the Dominion Government, on a basis parallel to that of the prairie provinces.

Senator J. W. de B. Farris, K.C., for British Columbia, explained his brief appearance before the commission was primarily a gesture of continued good will and desire to co-operate fully with the commission in its heavy task.

He expressed his "deep personal regret" at the retirement from public life of Hon. Newton W. Rowell, former commission chairman. Both the commission and the country suffered a great loss by retirement of Mr. Rowell, a man who showed a "remarkable combination of fine qualities" in his active life, he said.

HIGH COSTS

As to British Columbia's claim that costs of government there were increased substantially by the physical features of the province, Senator Farris told the commission it was almost impossible to produce figures to prove that claim.

Its population was scattered widely over large, varied areas. It had no canals, no alternative to expensive overland transportation.

British Columbia had been accused of extravagance, but its people were no different from others. Most of them came from eastern Canada or Scotland. The real explanation was the physical condition of the province.

He claimed, too, that British Columbia suffered from a greater discrepancy between the protection it received under the tariff and the amount of goods it bought from eastern Canada than any other part of the the country.

In view of all this, he submitted British Columbia should at least receive equal treatment in regard to grants, and that equal treatment should date back.

Prince Edward Island declared its endorsement of contributary old age pensions, urging reorganization of the pensions setup on that basis at once.

Noncontributory pensions should remain available, however, as emergency relief for needy aged persons unable to contribute to the general fund, W. E. Massey, Prince Edward Island provincial auditor, suggested to the commission.

Foreign Boycotts Reported Taking Effect in Reich

Goering Orders End Of Street Action Against Jews

Boomerang Seen

BERLIN (AP)—A new order by Field Marshal Hermann Goering banning further street action against Jews was interpreted today to indicate foreign boycotts were having a telling effect on Germany's foreign trade.

Chancellor Hitler's chief lieutenant told 36 Nazi district leaders last night the time for extra-legal action against Jews was past and he would hold them responsible for any new outbreaks.

Sources close to Goering said his order undoubtedly was in the interest of foreign trade, on which the November 10 shop wrecking by angry crowds proved a boomerang.

VIENNA ROUND-UP

In Vienna a new round-up of foreign Jews and those unable to produce satisfactory citizenship documents was in progress with an estimated 380 arrested yesterday. Those taken into custody included chiefly Polish and Roumanian Jews whose citizenship was contested by their respective governments.

The burgomaster of Zirndorf boasted in a telegram to chief Jewbaiter Julius Streicher that his Bavarian town had "freed itself" of Jews. He reported the last nine Jewish families in the town had left as a result of the latest anti-Semitic drive.

WINNIPEG (CP) — Otto Trause today was sentenced to five years and 20 lashes when he pleaded guilty to robbery with violence. Sentence was passed by Judge H. W. Whitla.

Chamberlain Party Wins By-election

H. Brooke Retains West Lewisham for Conservatives; Reduced Majority

LONDON (CP) — The sixth by-election since the Munich agreement resulted Thursday in the government retaining west London seat, but with a majority of 5,648 votes compared with 12,370 in the 1935 general election.

The test of the government's foreign policy followed the paths laid down in each of the five preceeding by-elections. A large group of voters turned over to the opposition and in two cases, in Dartford and Bridgwater, the swing was sufficient to score opposition gains. The government held Oxford City and Walsall, while Labor retained Doncaster.

Henry Brooke, Conservative member of the Hampstead borough council, was victorious yesterday in West Lewisham, a constituency in suburban Landon regarded as a safe Conservative seat. He defeated A. M. Skeffington, lecturer and economist, running in the Labor cause.

The next polling will be November 30, when Fylde, held by the late Lord Stanley, Dominions Secretary, will decide between Captain Claude Lancaster, Conservative, and Dr. Mabel Tylecote, Labor.

Later there will be voting in Norfolk East and Perth and Kinross. The Norfolk seat was opened when Viscount Elmley went to the House of Lords recently on the death of his father, Earl Beauchamp.

NO SERMONS BY MONTREAL RECTOR

Rev. C. E. Combe, Silent Because Addresses on Czechs Criticized

MONTREAL (CP)—Stirred by criticism of his preachings, Rev. C. E. Combe today was on a "silence strike from the pulpit of St. Jude's Anglican Church here.

The clergyman, for 14 years rector of the church on Vinet Street, said last night he expected to preserve his self-imposed silence until Christmas as a reply to those of his congregation who criticized the views he expressed in sermons taking their moral from the recent Czechoslovakian crisis.

While he asserted his intention of remaining away from the pulpit, he made it clear he was not giving up his other pastoral duties. They will be carried on as usual during the sermonless period.

The minister revealed his silence had been in effect since the Sunday following Armistice Day, November 13.

Though one Sunday has passed since then, the pulpit of St. Jude's has not yet been vacant at a service. A clergyman from Verdun filled in for the pastor last Sunday.

AGED MEN'S HOME BURNED

STE. THERESE DE BLAINVILLE, Que. (CP)—Fire caused about $5,000 damage early today when it raged through a home for aged men in this little town about 20 miles northwest of Montreal. All occupants were removed to safety and given shelter in neighboring homes.

Indian Drowned On West Coast

PORT ALBERNI, B.C. (CP)—Indians at Ahousat, B.C., on the west coast of Vancouver Island, today were searching for the body of Norman George, drowned yesterday in the north arm of Clayoquot Sound.

George and Angus Peters, both Indians, were hunting ducks from a boat when the former fell into the water. Attempts by Peters to save his companion failed.

Press Rights Are Defended

House Forces Withdrawal of Bill To Limit News

Members on both sides of the House rose in defence of the freedom of the press and praised the fairness of the British Columbia press particularly yesterday and forced Harold Winch, C.C.F., Vancouver East, to withdraw bills that would have regulated what papers can print about misdemeanors of children in industrial schools.

Speakers agreed that Mr. Winch's intentions were sincere in his move to protect the juveniles, but said the precedent of press control was too dangerous to be attempted.

Mr. Winch sponsored the plan because, he said, sensational reporting of escapes from the Girls' Industrial School in Vancouver had severely affected the work of the institution and lost jobs for girl graduates.

"Don't think I want to muzzle the press," said Mr. Winch, "but I think juveniles should be given protection of this kind. In this case I speak of the papers played up the story although the police suggested they should not."

R. L. Maitland, K.C., Conservative leader, immediately questioned the bill as ultra vires, saying it conflicted with the federal statute forbidding reporting of details in juvenile court cases.

"We also have the recent decisions of the courts on the Alberta press legislation," he said. "This bill may be only a small thing, but if we start here, you don't know how far it will go."

Premier Pattullo joined him in the view.

"Here is one case," he smiled at the Opposition, "where the executive doesn't want to take any more powers.

"Although," he added, still smiling, "I must admit that if it covered a wider field the government [illegible] very much to improve the standard of some publications.

DANGEROUS PRINCIPLE

"But it is introducing a dangerous principle. You might get it down to saying the newspapers could not report anything. I know the hon. member has the best of intentions, but it is something we should not embark upon."

Hon. G. M. Weir, Provincial Secretary, said co-operation with the press would achieve much better results than attempts to control it.

"The freedom of the press is involved in this attempt to prevent reporting of misdemeanors," he continued. Juvenile crime news is pretty well kept out of the papers now. They are anxious to co-operate if the word is said in the right place. It would make us a laughing stock to pass such a bill."

H. G. Perry, Liberal, Fort George, suggested Mr. Winch withdraw the bill rather than make the House vote it down.

"I am afraid my friend has let his emotional sentiment run away with his good reason," he said.

"The danger you risk here is much too serious to be put into a statute. Any good coming out of it would be more than offset by the dangerous precedent established, even though it is but a small step. The press can be trusted."

Attorney-General Wismer disagreed with Mr. Maitland that the bill conflicted with the Criminal Code, but he said in any case it was an unwise thing.

"It's a mistake to pass a thing of this kind to correct a temporary situation," he declared, "particularly as we have a very fine press in this country that can be trusted."

Mr. Winch withdrew his bill, expressing the hope some other means could be found to correct the difficulty.

NO AMENDMENT TO LIQUOR ACT NOW

Legislature Will Not Ease Law on Serving Minors

The Government Liquor Act will not be amended to provide that only a person who "knowingly" served liquor to a minor would be penalized, the Legislature decided yesterday.

The decision was made after the House had debated in second reading a bill of Thomas Uphill, Labor, Fernie, to this effect.

"No act should have been passed whereby an innocent person could be penalized," Mr. Uphill said, adding that in Alberta the act was far more lenient. There a person who knowingly supplied liquor to a minor was given a $300 fine and had his license canceled, but where there was reasonable doubt the fine was only $50. He said it was a physical imposibility to tell a person's age today.

Attorney-General Wismer said the clause in the act covering the serving of liquor to minors was a very proper safeguard.

"We must have strict and rigid enforcement in this respect," he said. "There are very few convictions, anyway; in proper cases the penalty is waived.

"But we don't want to weaken the act; we have enough abuses as it is; everyone knows—every member of this House knows that children under 21 years are consuming liquor."

R. L. Maitland, Leader of the Opposition, agreed with the Attorney-General. He said he didn't know of anything the bootleggers would welcome more than the proposed amendment.

Mr. Uphill was alone in voting for second reading of his bill.

DEBATE ON LABOR LOOMS IN HOUSE

Winch Wants Strike And Bargaining Rights Changed

Paving the way for a full dress debate on the government's policy toward labor disputes, Harold Winch, C.C.F., Vancouver East, yesterday introduced in the Legislature a bill amending the Industrial Disputes Conciliation and Arbitration Act.

Main point of the bill is to restrict the collective bargaining clause of the statute so that employers must deal with trade unions. The present law merely provides that a majority of employees can bargain collectively with their employer.

It also gives employees the right to go on "quickie" strikes, which is forbidden now.

Mr. Winch's bill featured a long afternoon of discussion on various legislative measures which went through various stages.

Minor amendments to the Noxious Weeds Act and the Plant Protection Act were brought in by Hon. K. C. MacDonald, Minister of Agriculture.

Dr. MacDonald also submitted a measure to control the use of poor grade stallions for horse-breeding.

EMBLEM RETURNED

DECATUR, Ill. (AP) — A Masonic emblem, found on a battlefield of France 20 years ago, has been returned to its owner—who never has been in France. The emblem, which came into the possession of Charles Borchers of Decatur, bore the inscription of the Brooklyn, N.Y., chapter. The chapter found the owner, who said in a letter to Borchers that he lost it 20 years ago—not in France, but in Brooklyn.

Demand Change In Liquor Law

B.C. System Uncivilized, Bruhn Tells House

British Columbia's liquor control system was roundly attacked in the Legislature last night and the government was warned by the Conservative opposition not to relax club locker rules as proposed.

"Ours is the most uncivilized liquor system in the world," declared R. W. Bruhn, Conservative, Salmon Arm.

"Take the beer parlors, for instance. Why can't you buy a soft drink there, or a sandwich? Why must you do nothing but drink beer?

"It seems to me there is only control of how you can sell it, and no control of how much you can sell. I don't know why this should be unless it is because the brewing interests are only concerned with how they can promote the sale and swilling down of beer.

"I wold like," he continued, "to see a real system of government control, one that would suit sensible people.

"Now a man can go into a liquor store and buy a case of whisky or a barrel of beer and take it up into a hotel room and have a good old carouse. Or take it in a car with a girl to the park, or to dance halls. We ought to revamp the Liquor Act."

Dr. J. Lyle Telford said beer parlors in Vancouver were favorite haunts for girls soliciting.

Attorney-General Wismer said the government saw no reason at present for opening the Liquor Act and R. L. Maitland, K.C., Conservative Leader, insisted there was no reason it should not be opened.

If the government proposes to relax the club locker rules it should be done in the House and not by order-in-council, he maintained.

Mr. Wismer replied that as far back as last August, the Vancouver Club, Terminal City Club and several other leading clubs, had suggested the plan to do away with lockers and allow members to buy their liquor in a joint pool through the stewards.

It seemed a sensible suggestion, he said, and he let the public know about it and had had no objections.

"But no order has been passed [illegible] definite [illegible] passed," he said. "The government does not contemplate letting clubs sell liquor. As far as how the change should be made, that is my responsibility to decide."

Mr. Maitland said the plan seemed beautiful and quite practical, but was too dangerous.

"With the Vancouver Club and those of its kind it would undoubtedly be fine," he said, "but the proprietary clubs that are run for the benefit of individuals—as they should not be run—would welcome it with open arms.

"You'd be flooded with club applications immediately, and the licenses would become as valuable as beer licenses. You'd better let the legitimate clubs stay the way they are and keep the illegitimate clubs out of the picture."

Dr. Telford said it would amount to the return of the old-fashioned bar.

WANTS TO HELP BEACON HILL BEAR

Bill Before House Would Provide Larger Cage Space

E. E. Winch, C.C.F., Burnaby, confided in the Legislature yesterday he has written to all the zoos in the world in his campaign to help Ursus Kermodei and other imprisoned bears in British Columbia.

He sponsored second reading of a bill which would insist on every bear having at least 1,500 square feet of floor space in its cage and a good deep bathing pond.

He showed pictures of bear cages in zoos in London, New York and many other points to prove that Victoria and Vancouver, particularly, are treating their bears improperly.

Ursus, he said, has only 500 square feet of space and a bird bath for her ablutions.

"Man's inhumanity to man is only equaled, if not excelled, by man's inhumanity to dumb animals," he said, closing his plea. Attorney-General Wismer adjourned debate on the bill.

No two spinal columns are exactly alike, says a surgeon.

Bargaining Rights Asked By Unions

Amendment of the government's collective bargaining law to provide that union officials be named bargaining agents was sought by a Vancouver Trades and Labor Council delegation which met the B.C. cabinet yesterday.

Headed by Percy Bengough and Birt Showler, they also asked the government to bring health insurance into operation and to set up some form of unemployment insurance until such time as the Dominion adopts the scheme.

Other points urged in the brief were a 30-hour five-day week, reduction in the old age pension to 60 years and holidays with pay for union men.

Horses might never have become so useful to man had it not been for the space in their jaws between the incisors and the grinding teeth. The bit is placed in this space, and the animal cannot take it in his teeth. This makes it possible for man to control and guide him.

For Public and Utilities

UNDER THE PUBLIC UTILITIES BILL introduced in the Legislature this week, the regulatory powers of the Public Utilities Commission to be set up in British Columbia will be limited to essential and monopolistic public services. Fears that powers would be sought to regulate all business and industry have proved unfounded. It is proposed only to exercise control over the rates, services and financing of power, local transportation and transmission companies. Publication of the bill is thus reassuring to business in general.

In creating a Public Utilities Commission, British Columbia is merely following in the footsteps of other governmental bodies across this continent, which have found a control of monopolistic utilities necessary in the public interest. For 20 years or more institution of such a commission in British Columbia has been agitated. Both political parties have been committed to the principle involved, but have postponed giving effect to it. It is probable that the City of Victoria is responsible for the government deciding to bring in the necessary legislation at this time. This city forced the issue during recent months by seeking powers to set up its own municipal public utilities commission in the absence of the long-promised provincial body. Establishment of such a local commission would have been followed by setting up similar bodies in municipalities throughout the province. This would have created a chaotic condition for the utilities. Faced with such a development they no doubt now welcome the comparative security against unreasonable local pressures that will be assured them under the shelter of a provincial commission.

A good argument can be made for the statement that the utilities themselves would be better off today had they been placed under such a commission 20 years ago. A measure of protection would have been afforded the companies themselves against their own follies during the orgy of over-financing and pyramiding that characterized the years before 1929. It was during these years that eastern financiers stepped into this province and took scores of millions of dollars of quick profits out of our British Columbia utilities companies. They increased the capital overhead on these companies, fixing the burden of carrying it on the consumers in British Columbia. Protection of the operating companies here against any such financial operations in the future cannot be viewed as anything but constructive to British Columbia industry and business in general. Strengthening of the earning power of our utilities through increase in population and the liquidation of early liabilities should inure to the benefit of British Columbia consumers through lower rates and not to eastern financial opportunists.

Sharp Drop in Majority

NOT EVEN THE MOST OPTIMISTIC supporter of Labor's cause ever thought it possible to capture the West Lewisham division of London's Lewisham borough from the Chamberlain Government. Nor was it expected that the Conservative majority would be reduced, in a straight fight, from 12,370 in the general election of 1935 to 5,648 in yesterday's by-election—necessitated by the death of Sir Philip Dawson. Sir Philip had won the seat seven times since 1921. This latest test was between Mr. Henry Brooke, government candidate, who polled 22,587 votes, and Mr. A. M. Skeffington, Labor, who polled 16,939.

In striking contrast with the turnout of electors in several constituencies in which by-elections have been fought recently, the poll of only a little more than half of the electoral roll would seem to suggest a very faint effort on the part of the voters generally to change the political complexion of the constituency, even at this critical juncture in British domestic and international affairs. Yet a majority of 12,370 for the government candidate in 1935 was reduced by no less than 6,722, and by 18,685 in comparison with the straight contest in 1931, when the Conservative had a majority of 24,333. Not since the West Lewisham division of this London borough was established at the beginning of the century has it been represented in the House of Commons by other than a Conservative. Labor's progress with the electorate in the last 10 years, however, has been noteworthy, while yesterday's result will probably encourage the party to try to turn the scales when the next general election comes round.

T.B. "Noticed"

UP IN KAMLOOPS THEY ARE VERY proud of the sanatorium at Tranquille. They have every right to be. They have seen it grow from small beginnings—from the days when the late Dr. Fagan began to interest the public of this province in the urgent necessity of doing something practical about the alarming spread of tuberculosis, from the days of the acquisition of the "san" by the government—and they are naturally impatient of any hint that the conduct of the institution may be smeared with the slightest suspicion of political patronage. They have noted Dr. Hunter's charge in the Legislature and Dr. Weir's very definite refutation of that charge. This is how the Kamloops Sentinel views the "incident" in the House the other day:

"Dr. J. D. Hunter's slur on Tranquille sanatorium has been 'called' by Dr. G. M. Weir. The Provincial Secretary has promised immediate investigation of any specific instances Dr. Hunter may bring forward of political patronage or political interference in the operation of the san.

"While it would be shameful if the efficient routine of the institution should be interfered with for a petty probe, it would be only fair to those upon whom reflection is cast, if this matter were forced further.

"Either Dr. Hunter should produce facts (not allegations) that may be investigated or he should publicly withdraw his disparaging remarks. It is not fair that the san staff should remain under a cloud, no matter how innocuous."

We have many times suggested in these columns that the Legislature might find it instructive and profitable if it condescended to discuss the fight against tuberculosis—if only to post itself on the annual cost in human lives which this dreaded malady exacts. It would be strange if the subject got an airing through such a charge as that which Dr. Hunter makes and which Dr. Weir most strenuously refutes. Discussing tuberculosis, of course, is nothing like as entertaining as a discussion of party patronage, notwithstanding the fact that the disease kills about 400 British Columbians very year.

Nuffield's Benefactions

WHEN THE HISTORIAN PREPARES his index of 20th century philanthropists he may well pause to think of Viscount Nuffield. He may parenthesize him as one of the world's most prolific spendthrifts—on good causes. For it has seemed that during the last few years he has been giving away his money as fast as he has made it. His list of benefactions already totals nearly $70,000,000, and now he has just announced that he proposes to present every hospital in the British Empire—and there are more than 5,000 of them—with an "iron lung." It is his proposal to manufacture these machines in his own factories at a cost of somewhere in the region of $2,500,000. This fine gift will bring Victoria under the aegis of Viscount Nuffield's ever-expanding benefactions.

It is said that a recent outbreak of infantile paralysis, in which several lives were lost because no "iron lung" was available, was the inspiration for this latest gift to suffering humanity. But Lord Nuffield—christened William Richard Morris—seems at no loss to discover ways and means of dispensing comfort and consolation, of aiding all projects designed for the betterment of the human lot. It also has been said and never disputed that two big disappointments have had something to do with the distribution of the fruits of his labors—one that he had no heir and the other that he was not a doctor.

Be that as it may, it is a far cry from the days of the Worcester boy who started a bicycle repair shop when he was 17, with a capital of five pounds. It was under a canvas shelter in the family front yard. He graduated from that to the making of motorcycles, branched out into automobiles, and then came the war. With his men "scattered or dead," his equipment "ruined or obsolete," he started all over again—"the hardest job of my life"—and by 1921 his cars were "running over England like a rash." So it has come to pass that the poor boy's dreams have come true, and he has been spared to see his pounds, shillings and pence, to borrow the metaphor, running all over the Empire in service to humanity.

The first step in saving democracy from its enemies is to save it from its friends.

Advice to consumers from all quarters now includes about everything except where to get the money.

Hitler has asked that Britain and France keep their air fleets smaller than his. So there is one thing of which Germany is not short.

Because his feet were tired, a postman in the east threw away circulars instead of delivering them. Disclaiming wordy goods to save his sole, no doubt.

COMING OFF RELIEF

From Printed Word, Toronto

This year in western Canada, and especially in some of the southern parts of Saskatchewan, there is occurring an event of great sociological importance. It is the phenomenon of people coming off relief.

There are people on relief in the east and elsewhere in the Dominion. With the passing years, relief has become a common thing all over the country, although only a dozen years ago it was thought that citizens of this new continent would never have to face anything like "the dole" as it was known in England.

It is hard to get people off relief. Even in the better times of the first half of 1937 the relief rolls had a gloomy tendency to grow. During that year attempts were made in many parts of the country to shake people from the rolls, but without much success. Relief had tended to become a vested interest.

But people are coming off relief in some parts of the prairies. It is a test of character greater than almost any other test that could be devised. All the devastating effects of relief are laid bare when men and women are given a chance to do for themselves again. Nature has now provided that chance and the test is on.

There has been high courage in the west through the past half dozen or more years. The morale of the people has been an inspiration to the whole country. But in many ways the test of this year is more severe. It is the test of responsibility.

WORK

THE HOUSE put on its working clothes yesterday and went to work. It was in a good humor for business, all its passion and fury having burned out on the previous day in its guerilla war with Mr. Speaker. Nobody had any more heart for quarreling.

In the comfortable atmosphere of a family which has had a domestic row and made up, Premier Pattullo was able to make surprising progress; not so much on his own business as on that of the opposition, and all of it must be disposed of somehow in the next two weeks or three at most. At the end of a brisk day the order paper was substantially lighter, some millions of dollars of supply had been voted and the government felt that at last the session was moving.

This is the time when experience and polititical workmanship count most. There are dozens of bills to be passed or rejected, loose ends to be tied together, all the assorted materials of legislation assembled and cunningly fitted together, each in its place.

Fortunately, Mr. Pattullo is an old hand at the job, a master workman, and he has on his left an attorney-general gifted with an extraordinary physical energy. In this business of legislating the Attorney-General must be the real supervisor, must keep track of every amendment, however minor, must read and consider every clause of every bill, and it is killing work, done mostly after working hours.

NO CENSORSHIP

FOR THE FIRST half of the day there was little real legislative building, since the first job, before construction can properly get under way, is to clear off the debris of opposition proposals which the government does not propose to incorporate in its structure of law.

It was cleared off pretty rapidly, but with remarkably good humor. Mr. Winch the younger was the first to see his work undone—a bill which would forbid newspapers to publish news of escapes from government reform schools. Against this rallied immediately most of the House, knowing that once established a censorship can grow fast.

Mr. Pattullo, who has been accused by his enemies of desiring too much power, said he didn't want the duty of enforcing Mr. Winch's proposed regulation of the newspapers, but he was confident that if he could regulate them he could greatly improve them. This, of course, was just a little private joke between the former star reporter of Woodstock Sentinel and the press gallery.

When Mr. Perry pleaded with Mr. Winch, in a fatherly fashion, to withdraw his bill the latter reluctantly agreed to it, realizing, perhaps, that if a censorship ever got under way in this province his C.C.F. would be the first to suffer from it.

Mr. Uphill, in a serious mood, fared no better with a law which would hold beer parlor operators innocent if they sold liquor to minors without knowing the age of the purchaser. After Mr. Wismer has explained that this would simply nullify all efforts to keep young people from drinking beer, the House turned Mr. Uphill down and he voted for his bill alone.

This, however, is only the beginning of debate on the liquor act. Mr. Maitland has some amendments in view which may plunge us once more into a good old-fashioned slumming expedition such as we used to enjoy years ago.

Meanwhile the atmosphere was friendly, almost jovial—one of those days when even the Premier could unbend and joke about his "brute majority." A little later, however, when Mr. Cameron and Mr. Bryan got going on the Battle of Blubber Bay, there were a few unneighborly moments.

SLIGHT FRICTION

MR CAMERON had sponsored a bill to give employees of large industries and camps the full rights of tenants while living on company property, and Mr. Bryan, smarting under attacks by some labor leaders, thought it a good chance to tell the truth, as he called it, about Blubber Bay. His story, in brief, was that Mr. Cameron had fomented the worst trouble and that the riot wouldn't have occurred if Mr. Cameron had stayed home.

This Mr. Cameron denied, but, not being allowed to speak twice, had little chance to answer. A little growling back and forth between him and Mr. Bryan provided the only friction of the afternoon, and in the end the Cameron bill was voted down by the Liberals and Conservatives.

MR. WINCH'S PETS

THE MOST pleasant job of the day was the elder Mr. Winch's single-handed crusade for the emancipation of British Columbia's imprisoned bears. With him the passage of a bear protection act has been a labor of love for years, and he is nearing success now. As he told of getting information from all the zoological gardens and scientific societies in the world, and explained with loving detail his plan to provide all bears with sufficient space and good bathing facilities, the House listened with real interest. Here was a simple, human work of kindness which everyone respected. In fact, Mr. Winch's amazing industry in seeking to improve all our institutions, from asylums to bear cages, is praised by everyone in the House.

After his plea for the emancipation of bears it looked as if the House would grant it, even though bears have not been enfranchised and cannot express their gratitude, like a grateful electorate, at the ballot box.

The House occupied the evening spending the taxpayers' money, always a congenial task. Politics is largely forgotten on such occasions, everyone sits about in a pleasant, gossipy mood, talking about the homely details of our democracy, learning the skilled trade of government from the bottom. Dull, useful stuff, all this. A dull, useful day altogether—nothing to delight the electors, who, secretly, like to see the Legislature make a spectacle of itself and then complain that it wastes its time.

"GERMANY'S BLACKEST PAGE"

To the Editor: — The reliable status of the Boston Transcript being well known, a reprinting of its editorial reaction to Nazi outrage may, here and there, awaken British blood from the apathy with which our pious words of condemnation have stopped short of outspoken refusal to continue to make political terms with a race of criminals. The article below, entitled "Germany's Blackest Page," appeared in the Boston Transcript on November 14:

"The blackest page in German history occurred on Thursday, November 10, 1938. It happened on the eve of a day—Armistice Day—when the rest of us were preparing to remember our war dead and to pray for peace. The events in Germany on that day, and the mass extortions of money which have come since, reveal brilliantly in a flash what many of us had long suspected but had inwardly fought against, as you hope against hope—the fact that present-day Germany is ruled by a band of men whose instinct for inhumanity and ruthlessness is beyond all imagining. Neither her war defeat nor any humiliation suffered since, can compare with Germany's supreme shame of last Thursday and the ensuing tactics. Long after other Nazi 'triumphs' are forgotten, these will remain a sickening memory. Millions of Germans so cruelly betrayed by their 'leaders' and forced to be a party to this unspeakable outrage might well despair at ever facing civilized men anywhere on earth without abasement.

"In the perspective of a few days, the occurrence of last Thursday appears to be not merely a pogrom, surpassing in its extent those of the darkest days of the Czar, but a spectacle of combined incendiarism, pillage, banditry, violation, man-seizure, against a helpless and disarmed minority, which leaves the whole world gasping for breath.

"Hardly any doubt remains that the unutterable outrage had been minutely arranged in advance, and heartily subscribed to, by the Nazis high in the party, who then passed the work of execution to their yeggmen. It is inconceivable that the German people, however poisoned and incited by Hitler propaganda, could have been capable of it.

"There need be no further misgivings as to the quality, manner and purpose of the present German regime. Clearly, its purpose consists in removing from the human scene all that free and sane men still hold precious and worthwhile, in thought or conduct, and to reduce this earth to a reign of terror and savagery. It is with such government that Mr. Chamberlain has attempted his 'appeasements'! But the lines are more sharply drawn today than ever. We know what issues are at stake. Germany's blackest page—the Jews have ever been advance sufferers in a crazed world—moves her a step nearer to the precipice."

POPULAR NAMES IN SCOTLAND

From The Times, London

Fashion changes in names in Scotland have resulted in the decline of Highland names like Colin, Roderick, Dugald and Lachlan, and the sudden appearance and rise in popularity of Irene, Dorothy, Maureen and June, but John and Margaret remain the most used names after 80 years.

These facts are disclosed in the report for 1937 of the Registrar-General for Scotland, which, for the first time for 75 years, deals with popular Scottish names. It comments on the decline in the number of children with Biblical names, which have almost fallen into disuse.

Plea For Street Cars

Council to Take No Action on Plebiscite Until Murrin Is Heard

Before it deals definitely with a petition sponsored by local street railway employees asking for a referendum covering continued operation of the present transportation system in Victoria, the City Council will seek a meeting with W. G. Murrin, president of the British Columbia Electric Railway Company Limited, here on Monday afternoon at 3.30 to iron out some of the points of contention existing between Mr. Murrin and the city.

The petition, signed by approximately 5,000 civic voters, supporting continuation of the system, was officially received at last night's council meeting. A covering brief was presented by Roy Manzer, counsel and spokesmen for a delegation of the street railwaymen's association which attended the council session.

Decision to invite Mr. Murrin to join the council and R. W. Beck, utilities expert, here in franchise committee Monday, was reached after arrangements had been left with the mayor to call a meeting with Chamber of Commerce and Real estate Board delegation on the transportation issue.

At the suggestion of Alderman B. J. Gadsden the latter meeting will be widened to take in others interested in the transportation plan and will include delegates of transit concerns in the city.

Alderman Archie Wills suggested the council hear views expressed by several public bodies on the question. He referred to criticism of council action from certain sources, and thought it might be well to study the opinions of public groups.

WOULD "EASE-IN" SYSTEM

The alderman advocated a policy of "easing in" any new transportation system that might be accepted. He thought the public should be advised nothing definite would be done for the next two months in the way of choosing a service. If a new system were selected, he counselled a course of making the switch-over gently by starting one or two lines at a time and allowing the street railway to continue on others until the entire city was covered.

Acceptance of a system could not be effected immediately, Mayor McGavin informed Alderman Wills. Advertising for tenders would require at least 30 days and the city was not yet ready to insert the advertisements, he said.

The move to hear the Chamber of Commerce-Real Estate Board committee was put and carried and the mayor empowered to fix a date.

Mr. Murrin, the council decided, will be invited to bring with him officials of his company for the Monday afternoon session and action on the requested plebiscite may be taken at a council meeting that evening. A period of a full week before election day is required for advertisement of any plebiscite.

Opening the meeting last night, Mr. Manzer read the preamble to the petition submitted to the council urging continuation of existing street car service. He stated 160 employees would be affected if the present system were abolished and the wives and dependents of the men would raise to 500 those directly concerned by a change.

PUBLIC SUPPORT

He cited the support given to the petition. The number who signed represented about 42 per cent of all voters in the city and 80 per cent of the number that exercised their franchise last year.

If the city was not prepared to ask continuation of the service without an expression of opinion by the public, he thought the least the council could do was hold a plebiscite on the question.

Dealing with the company's attitude, he cited W. G. Murrin's letter to the city stating the B.C. E.R. Co. Limited would continue service for a period of time if requested by the council.

Mr. Manzer further stated a letter would be forwarded to the council from A. D. King, B.C. E.R. solicitor, to the effect there would be no change in the company's attitude toward the city.

He cited legal opinion outlining the compensation due to transport operatives dispossessed of their opportunity to earn a living and suggested such compensation in Victoria would be continuation of the street railway.

PENSION ANGLE

Mr. Manzer outlined the pension plan of the company. About 30 would reach the age of superannuation within the next five years, he said, adding another 50 would qualify in that time for the union benefit. The age for both was 65, he said.

"I can promise you, Mr. Manzer, that we will take this under careful consideration and let you know our conclusion later on," the mayor said.

In answer to Alderman W. H. Davies, Mr. Manzer stated about seven operators were now over the superannuation minimum and still working.

Mr. Murrin's letter to the city, discussing extension terms of from one to five years, indicated the willingness of the company to continue, Mr. Manzer said in reply to a question from Alderman Gadsden.

He emphasized the statement the company had given an assurance there would be no change in its attitude to the city and no effort would be made by it to evade obligations on tracks and overhead equipment.

Alderman James Adam stated it would be some time before an adequate Greater Victoria transportation service was ready to succeed the street cars. The petition would be fully considered before any change was made.

Edwin F. Fox, replying to Alderman Archie Wills, stated the majority of operators in the city would be capable of driving buses instead of street cars. He based that statement on result of the switch-over in New Westminster. About half a dozen would not be competent to handle buses, he thought.

Alderman Ed Williams asked if the B.C.E.R. was interested in operating a bus service here. If the company secured the franchise, he thought the problem of the drivers would be solved.

No Bars on Forum Vote

Complete Civic Electorate to Voice Views On Sports Arena Plan

Victoria's complete civic electorate, approximately 85 per cent of which is composed of property owners, will vote on the forum loan referendum on December 8.

If the proposal is endorsed by the vote the provincial government [illegible] will apply a ballot to determine whether or not, in their opinion, a sufficient representation of property holders is registered in the affirmative. If they are satisfied with their analysis and if they are given proof the combined civic auditorium-sports arena will be a self-liquidating project, they will recommend to the federal government that it loan Victoria the money.

Forrest L. Shaw, city solicitor, told the City Council that procedure would be followed prior to the council's decision to make the referendum wide open to the voting public.

Those who enjoy the franchise will be asked to state "yes" or "no" to the following question:

"Are you in favor of the City of Victoria borrowing from the Dominion Government, under the provisions of The Municipal Improvement Assistance Act, 1938, the sum of $150,000 with interest at 2 per cent per annum, repayable over a period of 20 years and to be repaid in semi-annual payments of principal and interest combined, proceeds of loan to be used for the construction and equipment of a civic auditorium and sports arena?"

The vote issue was raised by Mr. Shaw in a letter to the council, stating the motion passed at a preceding meeting of the council for a referendum by property owners was without authority, under the Municipal Act. Such a procedure would leave the mayor and aldermen open to certain personal liabilities. It was not necessary to put a referendum or a money by-law to the people on the question, he told Alderman R. A. C. Dewar in reply to question, but added the provincial government wanted a vote to determine the opinion of the public.

On Alderman Dewar's motion the previous referendum resolution was rescinded.

Alderman Archie Wills expressed regret over the barrier placed before the property owners' vote on the question. He was anxious to see a forum and suggested an effort be made to overcome the technicality.

Alderman S. H. Okell stated the city clerk had informed him 85 or 90 per cent of the voters' list was made up of property owners' names. It would make little difference to the outcome of the ballot if all were included, he suggested.

Alderman Ed. Williams moved for a general referendum. Alderman Alex Peden asked for a restatement of the government's intentions.

Alderman W. Lloyd Morgan stated the explanation by Mr. Shaw marked a new departure in undertaking a borrowing scheme for the city since the property owners were not given the final decision.

In reply to Alderman Morgan, Alderman Okell stated in his opinion, everyone paid taxes, either through rent or directly. Alderman Morgan countered with the statement such a loan would be made a first charge on land.

Alderman Dewar pressed for the motion on the general referendum which was pr[illegible] legal form by Mr. Shaw and passed without a dissenting vote.

B.C. Against Single Collection of Tax

British Columbia will not let the Dominion Government collect its income tax for it, like Ontario and Manitoba, because the province regards the Dominion as an intruder in the income tax field, Hon. John Hart, Minister of Finance, told the House last night.

R. W. Bruhn, Conservative, Salmon Arm, said the government could save a considerable sum each year if it eliminated the dual collection, and would save business men a good deal of trouble.

"When I started business I could carry my office accounts in my hip pocket," Mr. Bruhn said. "Now it takes two or three clerks to keep up with the flood of forms the government wants filled out."

Mr. Hart assured Dr. J. Lyle Telford that the government is now negotiating with its bankers to get a larger rate than ¾ per cent on its bank balances. The Treasury pays the bank 3¼ on its loans.

PATTULLO NOT GOING TO LONDON

Premier Pattullo assured the Opposition in the Legislature last night he has no intention of going to London as agent-general, for he expects to remain in office here for at least three, and probably eight more years.

Conservatives demanded the permanent appointment of W. A. McAdam, now acting agent-general, but the Premier said Mr. McAdam was satisfied with his present position.

The Saanich police commission this year has decided a municipal police ball was not in the best interests of the police force, Councillor A. G. Lambrick, police commissioner, told the Saanich Council last night. Councillor L. C. Hagan, Ward Six, asked why the ball was not being held, since he felt it was one of the finest charity projects carried out in the municipality. Proceeds of farmer dances have provided shoes and stockings for needy children.

City Council Briefs

The city relief office will join the provincial government in providing special Christmas fare to unemployed as the result of a resolution passed by the City Council last night at the request of the committee. The bonuses will be made up on the regular contributory scale of 80-20 and 60-40 per cent by the province and the city respectively.

Sale of three lots was authorized on the recommendation of the lands committee. One on the southeast corner of Michigan and Government Street went for $250 to a purchaser who proposes to build two duplexes; another, on the north side of Topaz Avenue, between Maple and Quadra, for $150, and another on the east of Maple Avenue, north of Topaz, for $300, on the condition extension of Maple Avenue services would not be required.

Stanley J. McLaren was appointed to the fire department personnel for a six months' probation period. Appointments of A. Perry and E. C. Tucker were confirmed.

The council referred back to its celebrations committee a motion from Alderman W. H. Davies calling for a move to enlist public subscriptions in British Columbia for the construction of a naval training ship, worth $125,000. The suggestion was made that Vancouver's opinion on the question be sought. Alderman Davies stated he had put forward the scheme as a means of assisting in Empire defence. He did not think Canada was doing its share in that field. Canada had a navy for that purpose, Alderman James Adam said. Alderman Ed. Williams stated he would have supported the motion had the plan aimed at raising $125,000 by public subscription to feed the needy. In reply to Aldderman Davies' charge Canada was doing little enough for Empire defence, Alderman S. H. Okell remarked about 50,000 Canadians had given their lives in the last war.

City Asks Saanich Share Survey Cost

The city of Victorias request for a contribution towards current expenses of the utilities and transportation survey was temporarily sidetracked by the Saanich Council last night.

The request was referred to the next joint meeting of the Oak Bay, Saanich and Esquimalt councils.

The city letter said costs of the survey to date had been $7,500, and asked a proportionate contribution from Saanich.

Councillor L. C. Hagan, Ward Six, moved tabling of the letter.

"The situation up to this point has been very arbitrary, and until there is a greater show of a spirit of co-operation I think it should be tabled," said Councillor E. C. Warren, Ward Two, in seconding the motion.

At Reeve Crouch's suggestion, it was unanimously decided to leave the letter to the joint meeting.

A triangular piece of property at the corner of Cedar Hill Road and Wetherby Road was set aside for park purposes by the Saanich Council last night.

MORE AID FOR MINE PROSPECTS

More help for mining prospectors to get roads and trails to their properties will be forthcoming from the Department of Mines next year.

Under a bill sponsored in the Legislature yesterday by Hon. W. J. Asselstine, Minister of Mines, the government will be able to pay the full cost of exploratory trails. At present it can pay only 50 per cent, but many cases have cropped up where miners with good prospects could not raise the necessary half and were thus blocked in developing their properties.

NEGOTIATE ON BRIDGE TRANSFER

Premier Says Province Will Talk Terms With Ottawa

Transfer of the old Fraser River Bridge to the Dominion Government is still subject to negotiations of financial considerations, Premier Pattullo announced in the Legislature yesterday when the bill authorizing the transfer came up for second reading.

The Premier explained that the bridge was given to the Dominion because the railways needed it and if a lift span were ordered, as proposed, the Dominion would have to pay the cost, and the province would save.

On the other hand, he pointed out, the bridge is worth $600,000 as it stands and produces a revenue from the railways using it. If the revenue exceeds the cost of maintenance the province may wish to share the profit with the Dominion. It also wants to make an arrangement about the employees and the bill grants the authority to talk over these terms.

R. L. Maitland, K.C., Conservative leader, adjourned debate on the bridge question.

Clash Over Blubber Bay

Angry Scene When Liberal Accuses C.C.F. Of Starting Trouble

Sharp words flew again in the Legislature yesterday when J. M. Bryan, Liberal, Mackenzie, charged Colin Cameron, C.C.F., Comox, with starting trouble at Blubber Bay last summer.

The House was giving second reading to a bill of Mr. Cameron's which would open roads to the public in company towns.

After heated debate the motion was snowed under on a division of 35 to 8, Tom Uphill, Labor, Fernie, joining the seven C.C.F. members, and the Conservatives siding with the Liberals.

"I might say there was no trouble at Blubber Bay until the arrival of the honorable member for Comox," Mr. Mackenzie said.

Mr. Cameron immediately denied the charge and said he was called to the scene of the strike, in Mr. Bryan's riding, only after Mr. Bryan refused to go there. He demanded Mr. Bryan take back his words.

"Are you saying the honorable member for Comox started the trouble?" Mr. Speaker Whittaker asked.

ACUTE TROUBLE

"I will say acute trouble, then," Mr. Bryan replied. "But I will say also the night after he arrived there was a riot that took 26 police to quell and a condition was created by his visit and information given the strikers that Provincial Police had no jurisdiction on a federal wharf."

"The time has come when British Columbia must decide who is going to rule the people—this Legislature or private corporations," Mr. Cameron said in opening discussion on his bill.

Premier Pattullo said the matter was covered in the Company Towns Act. He said he was not especially holding a brief for the companies, but he thought it a good thing at this time there were such places as Ocean Falls and Powell River, where permanent employment was given large numbers. He said if the bill was passed its results would be injurious to industry and the working man.

H. E. Winch, C.C.F., Vancouver East, said the Premier was looking at the matter from the viewpoint of industry and not from that of employees and the people as a whole.

"This bill will not be used to tear down industry, but to try to correct an injustice, to guarantee to the workers of this province their rights," he said.

Mr. Bryan said the bill would open company towns to "every irresponsible agitator and every irresponsible politician."

"I rather resent the fact the C.C.F. members in this House get up from time to time and appear to be the sole advocates of labor," Attorney-General Wismer said. "This government is only in power because of the support of labor, organized labor."

Bridge Charge Hearing Set

House Committee Opens Probe Into Telford Assertion

Hearing of witnesses on Dr. J. Lyle Telford's charge of an overpayment of $300,000 on steel for the Pattullo Bridge will start next Wednesday morning before the public accounts committee of the Legislature.

At the opening of the investigation yesterday Dr. Telford said that among other witnesses he wanted W. G. Swan, consulting engineer; Hon. F. M. MacPherson, Minister of Public Works, and Hon. A. Wells Gray, Minister of Lands.

The government will produce all documentary evidence in connection with the bridge job.

Members of the committee pressed Dr. Telford to repeat his charge, but it was finally decided to get the text of it from the clerk of the House. Mr. MacPherson said Dr. Telford should put his charge in writing and sign it.

Dr. Telford protested Mr. MacPherson's assertion that he went around making wild charges based on irresponsible letters and hearsay, declaring he did not have to take that from anyone and would not.

Mr. MacPherson referred to former investigations of Dr. Telford's statements that had proved fruitless.

The committee also decided to call four witnesses for an investigation of statements that there were irregularities in payments on the Dutch Creek section of the Kingsgate-Radium Highway. B. E. Burpee, former resident engineer on the wark, was previously asked to come before the committee and replied he was not interested," will be subpoenaed if necessary. Other witnesses are H. Hetherington, who communicated Mr. Burpee's statements to Harold Winch, C.C.F. member for Vancouver East, and two government engineers from the district.

WORK OF MENTAL CLINIC REVIEWED

The relationship of mental hygiene to the community, with particular reference to the work of the clinic in Victoria was discussed by Dr. A. M. Gee, director of the provincial psychiatric clinic here, at a meeting of the Council of Social Agencies at the Y.W.C.A. Wednesday night.

The speaker said the aims of welfare organizations were all directed toward the adjustment of human beings to the world and to each other. Dr. Gee declared mental health promotion could not be carried on by one person, or by one organization but by a correlation of all organizations working for social welfare.

A comprehensive review of the work being done by the Victoria clinic was made by the speaker. He cited the results obtained by examinations made by the clinic.

Politics Feared At University

Opposition Members Say Suspicion Cast at Point Grey Institution

Suspicion of politics was cast on the University of British Columbia by Opposition members last night when the University grant of $426,530 was being discussed in estimates committee of the House.

Dr. J. Lyle Telford, C.C.F., Vancouver East, said there was a very strong political leaning in the appointments at the university, in naming persons to the administrative and teaching staffs. If nothing were done about the matter, he said, he would use names next year.

Dr. G. M. Weir, Minister of Education, said he knew the politics of a few persons at the University, but generally he did not know the politics of the faculty.

R. L. Maitland, Leader of the Opposition, said there must be some political significance to changes at the University, mentioning specifically R. L. Reid, who had left the Board of Governors in 1933.

DENIED BY MINISTER

Dr. Weir denied this and said Mr. Reid was now the university's solicitor.

"He would far rather be a governor, that is the kind of a man he is," Mr. Maitland replied.

"There is nothing political about it," Dr. Weir said.

"The suspicion of politics cannot be absent from the University, because the governors are appointed by a political party in power," said Mrs. Dorothy Steeves, C.C.F., North Vancouver. "There is no denying the fact there is great discontent in affairs at the University. It is regrettable there is an atmosphere of distrust and intrigue in the teaching staff, whose members form cliques, with one body ranged against another."

She said the University should be put on the same basis as the school system. She contended that the University was just as much a part of the education system as the other schools, and should be governed in exactly the same way.

Answering a question by J. A. Paton, Conservative, Vancouver-Point Grey, Premier Pattullo said the government had the matter of accommodation at the University under consideration, and it was the desire of the government to see proper accommodation provided there.

Mrs. Steeves said increase in fees had kept many students away this year. She said large sums were being spent by a board which did not have to account to anyone as far as finances and policy went.

The University grant for 1939-40 is increased by $24,730.

Superannuation Plan Attacked

Oak Bay Asks More Time to Consider Scheme After Report

The provincial government's new superannuation scheme for municipal employees was criticized in a report received by the Oak Bay council yesterday evening from R. F. Blandy, municipal clerk.

As a result of the report the council will ask the Provincial Secretary's office for more time in which to consider the scheme.

The report reads in part as follows:

"The matter is intricate, but the main features are quite understandable. While the new plan makes reductions in pensions for back service—admittedly the weak spot in the present scheme—and has other elements which might be considered advantages, yet there are numerous disadvantages or factors of questionable merit. The chief of these may be summarized briefly:

"1. The pensions payable by the employer and relating to the years since the Superannuation Act became applicable to the respective employees, are much more costly.

"2. Marked favoritism is shown to policemen, firemen and women, in that their pensions per year of service cost more than those of other employees.

"3. The amount of (employers') pension bears no relation to the salary paid, contrary to the principles embodied in the present plan and found in many pension plans.

"The whole matter is being rushed unduly. The executive of the Union of B.C. Municipalities had one brief meeting with the actuary concerned, but no adequate explanation was forthcoming, and no demonstration of the effect on municipal and provincial finances has been given.

"The bait held before us was that our annual contributions would be pegged at 7 per cent of our payroll, and that we didn't need to worry about the ultimate cost. The difference in immediate cost is to be loaned or guaranteed by the province, and is to be repaid by the municipalities at some time in the distant future.

"Many of the new pensions payable will be more than double those payable under the present scheme. While a reduction in 'back-service' pensions is advisable, there seems no adequate reason for rushing into a scheme for paying higher pensions to present and future employees. It is quite possible to devise some plan less costly and more practicable than that contemplated.

"In Oak Bay's case, so far as the cost can be estimated with the data available, the new plan means an increase in the annual cost from $8,900 to $10,900, notwithstanding a small reduction in existing pensions—only 20 per cent, or $1,000 a year. The estimated minimum total cost to the municipality of prospective pensions for our 45 permanent employees is no less than $205,370.

"Various tables and calculations have been made in relation to the matter. To quote one or two brief examples, the new plan proposes inter alia a pension of $360 a year after 20 years' service. Such a pension costs $4,187 to buy, for a man aged 60. Under the present plan, at 3 per cent compound interest, the pension fund provided by the municipality for an employee on $100 a month would only be $1,302 in 20 years. The new pension will cost the taxpayer more than three times as much. The proposed pension for a policeman or a fireman at age 55, for 35 years' service, will cost $7,430. At present, for the same length of service, the cost would be $3,671 if his salary for the whole period is $125 a month."

Protect Women's Business Rights

If a woman in partnership with her husband in business leaves him, she has no rights to claim any part of the earnings, R. L. Maitland, K.C., Conservative leader, told the Legislature yesterday.

He sponsored second reading of a bill which would give her equal rights, claiming British Columbia is a long way behind England and other provinces of Canada on the law. Attorney-General Wismer adjourned debate on the point.

Oak Bay Council Briefs

Windsor Park will be further graded, water pipes will be laid for future watering of the playing fields, and the graded area will be surrounded by a low wire fence, according to plans for the month of December contained in the monthly works department report submitted to the Oak Bay Council yesterday evening. Among work completed during November the report listed scarifying and grading on Dufferin, Nottingham, Dewdney, Burdick, Hampshire, Musgrave, Thompson and Weald Roads. The new street lighting and fire hydrant programs had been completed, the report added.

The council tabled for further consideration an opinion from its solicitors that the municipality had power to pass a by-law granting money to the City of Victoria for aiding in the building of a new isolation hospital or maintaining the existing one.

A request for paving of Neil Street to a width of 15 feet under the local improvement plan, received from a resident of the street, was referred to A. S. G. Musgrave, municipal engineer, for report.

The council decided to grant three extra days' work at Christmas time to the municipality's unemployed, in addition to a special December food allowance of $3.20 to families and $1.20 to single men, announced by Hon. George S. Pearson, Minister of Labor.

The possibility of levying a charge of 25 cents for collection of discarded boilers and other unburnable garbage will be considered. In a letter received at the meeting, a ratepayer complained that under the present system, which requires householders to take unburnable garbage to the scow in Victoria, old tanks, buckets and cans are being dumped by night on vacant lots and beaches.

The council authorized the placing of a street light on Denison Road. The cost of $72.50 will be shared equally by residents and the municipality.

A proposal from a Cadboro Bay resident that a street should be cut diagonally across the tract of land south of Lansdowne Road and west of Cadboro Bay Road to link the junction of those two roads with Foul Bay Road, was turned down.

Pain Like Knife From STOMACH TROUBLE

If you suffer from stomach pains you'll sympathize with Mr. J. F. S., of Ipswich. "Sometimes," he writes, "I had taken only half my dinner and had to walk about the room, the pain was so dreadful, like a knife." But Mr. J. F. S. no longer suffers stomach trouble, and he owes his happy recovery to the highly effective action of the four alkalies prescribed by stomach specialists.

You can take these same alkalies, as Mr. J. F. S. did, simply by getting a bottle of Maclean Brand Stomach Powder. These alkalies are perfectly balanced in Maclean Brand Stomach Powder. They relieve pain extremely rapidly. And they do more. They soothe inflamed stomach walls with a protective coating which allows the stomach to recover its normal functioning. Get Maclean Brand Stomach Powder (always in bottles in cartons, 75c) from your druggist. Look for the signature "Alex. C. Maclean" which must appear on every bottle and carton. Maclean Brand Stomach Powder is not genuine without this signature. Never sold loose. 125

Weddings

BRAY—SILBURN

Announcement is made of the marriage of Winnifred Mary, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. Silburn, 3200 Douglas Street, to Mr. William Bray, son of Mrs. R. Bray, Pandora Avenue, and the late Mr. Richard Bray, which was solemnized in Seattle on November 10. Mr. and Mrs. Bray will make their home in Victoria.

RANGER—ATKINSON

A pretty wedding, of interest in Victoria and Vancouver, took plact at the home of Mrs. J. J. Wilson, 1407 West Seventy-first Avenue Vancouver, when Miss Dorothy Atkinson became the bride of Mr. Louis Ranger of Victoria.

Given in marriage by her cousin, Mr. Robert Hamilton, the bride wore a dress of sapphire blue velvet. A gold pendant set with pearls and brilliants and a matching tiara for headdress completed her ensemble and white carnations and maidenhair fern tied with a golden bow were in her bouquet.

Mrs. Frank Ellis, cousin of the bride, was her only attendant, and wore a frock of poudre blue crepe, trimmed with golden clips and a corsage of pink Ophelia rosebuds and maidenhair fern.

Rev. G. H. Hamilton officiated at the ceremony, and Mrs. G. H. Hamilton played the wedding music.

Assisting the bridal party in receiving the guests, Mrs. J. J. Wilson wore a formal evening gown of cerise crepe with matching flowers.

For traveling the bride wore a Hudson seal coat with sable trim, black velvet hat and matching accessories over her ensemble. Mr. andd Mrs. Ranger will make their home in Victoria.

Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Crowcroft, Mr. P. McGill, Mr. J. McCall, Mrs. Marks and daughter, Barbara, all of Victoria.

Mr. and Mrs. P. C. Simpson, whose marriage took place recently at St. Mary's Church, Oak Bay, and who have taken up residence in their new home on Monterey Avenue. The bride was formerly Miss Iris Elaine Brandon of Vancouver, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Simpson, Oliver Street.

A BRITISH COLUMBIA PRODUCT

DIVINITY FUDGE
2 egg whites.
2½ cups granulated sugar.
½ cup hot water.
½ cup Rogers' Golden Syrup.
1 teaspoon vanilla.
Few drops almond extract.
½ cup chopped walnuts, almonds or preserved ginger.
Boil sugar, Rogers' Golden Syrup and water to "soft ball" stage. Pour half the mixture on the beaten egg whites. Beat well, let the remainder of the syrup boil until the "hard ball" stage. Then pour over the mixture and continue beating. When it thickens, add the nuts, ginger and vanilla. Pour into greased pan and work.

Huge Fortune Left To Glamour Girl Of Gotham

Canadian Banker's Granddaughter Worth $5,000,000

NEW YORK (CP) — Brenda Diana Duff Frazier, 17-year-old glamour girl of Gotham's cafe society, learned today she is worth about $5,000,000.

The pretty granddaughter of Sir Frederick Williams Taylor, Canadian banker, learned her inheritance from a trust fund left by her father, the late Frank Duff Frazier, was more than $4,000,000, and a direct bequest, $839,389.

She recently took a ride through the streets of Manhattan—for the sake of charity—atop a car of baled hay, from which she waved salutations to the citizenry who happened to be out late.

Her mother is the former Brenda Williams-Taylor. She is now Mrs. Frederick Watriss, widow of Frederick Watriss, an attorney, who was the father of Lady Thornton, widow of Sir Henry Thornton, one-time president of the Canadian National Railways. She was divorced from her first husband, Frank Duff Frazier, in 1926, after they had been married 10 years.

A clause in Mr. Duff Frazier's will [illegible] for his daughter on condition she did not live with her mother. The courts subsequently set aside this condition of the bequest.

Ask Government For Reform Measures

Provincial Council of Women Want Cheaper School Books, Low-rental Houses, Better Quarters at Oakalla and Highway Commission

"Loss leader" sales, penological reform, forest conservation, mental hygiene, cheaper school books, nation-wide low-rental housing schemes were among the potpourri of subjects discussed by the Provincial Council of Women at their meeting yesterday afternoon at the Y.W.C.A. And as an outcome of their deliberations a strong delegation is interviewing the provincial government today to ask for measures dealing with these problems.

LOSS LEADERS

George Matthews of the Retail Merchants Association, Vancouver, spoke on Act No. 89 and Act No. 88, which latter is known as the "loss leader" act, and which he said was designed to protect consumer, producer and retail dealer. But opposition had been met with from certain firms, and the speaker explained a suggested amendment framed to "put teeth" into Act No. 88, and obviate its circumvention through technical loopholes. The council decided to support the proposed amendment.

That "hardy perennial," the need of adequate quarters for women prisoners at Oakalla, was again to the fore, the Provincial Council reiterating its stand by endorsing a resolution from the John Howard Society of British Columbia. The resolution urged the provincial government to take speedy action to put into effect its plans to erect a woman's prison at Oakalla which will conform with modern penological requirements. Special emphasis was laid on the urgent need of segregation of the first offenders from the habitual criminals.

Endorsement was also given to a resolution from Kamloops Local Council asking the Provincial Health Department to extend the field covered by the traveling mental clinic, now in operation as far east as Chilliwack, to all the more populous centres of British Columbia, each centre to be visited at least once in three years.

The council also endorsed Premier Pattullo's call for a Dominion immigration and settlement conference, with the object of forming a settlement plan to be placed before the overseas authorities and organizations in the United Kingdom.

Victoria Council's plea for forest conservation and greater protection of timberlands from fire, with an adequate appropriation for the forestry service, was endorsed.

PROTEST JEWISH TREATMENT

Strong protest was made against the "barbarous attacks upon the Jews in Germany" in the resolution sponsored by the Vancouver League of Nations Society, and endorsed by the council. The resolution also asked the federal government to put forth effort to secure homes for Jewish refugees in various parts of the world and to open the doors of Canada to an appreciable number of refugees.

The council approved the nation-wide low-rental housing plan, and asked that the act be made applicable to British Columbia.

CHEAPER SCHOOL BOOKS

A resolution requested the government to bring in amending legislation providing for co-operative buying of textbooks for children up to 18 years, along the lines endorsed by the British Columbia Trustees' Association. In connection with this, Mrs. Rimes, New Westminster, produced figures showing that by co-operative textbook buying supported by the government, it had been possible, in a single instance, to reduce the cost of books from $50 to $5.

Resolutions were also passed urging the establishment of a nonpolitical highway commission for the province, for the establishment at the University of British Columbia of a chair on home economics and mothers' pensions extension, for the preservation of Hollyburn Ridge and for the placing of Garibaldi Park under the jurisdiction of the Canadian National Parks, to ensure its development and accessibility.

SOCIAL and PERSONAL

Mrs. Gordon Money and her two children have arrived from Vancouver on a visit to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Wilson, St. Charles Street.

En route to her home in Victoria after visiting in the east, Mrs. James Mitchell was the guest of Miss Shirley Fraser in Winnipeg over last week-end.

This afternoon at her home on [illegible] entertained at the tea hour in honor of Mrs. Arthur Atkinson of Vancouver.

Mr. Walton Gilbert of Los Angeles, who has been spending a few days in Victoria with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Justin Gilbert, Douglas Street, left yesterday for California.

Mr. Ted Royce of Vancouver came over to Victoria to attend the dance being given this evening by Mrs. John Galt and Mr. H. Weldon in honor of Mrs. Galt's granddaughters, the Misses Ann Critchley and Elizabeth Martin.

Brigadier E. Schmidlin of Ottawa, who has been spending the last week in Victoria as the guest of Brigadier J. C. Stewart and Mrs. Stewart, Work Point Barracks, has left for his home in the east. On Wednesday evening, Brigadier Stewart and Mrs. Stewart were hosts at a small dinner party in compliment to Brigadier Schmidlin.

Mrs. Bruce Cash has returned to her home on Admirals Road after attending a Press Club meeting in Vancouver and a Press Club dinner in Seattle, at which Marion Stixrude, woman's page editor of the Seattle P.I., was mistress of ceremonies, and Virginia Boren, social editor of the Seattle Times, spoke of her recent six weeks' trip to the east.

A no-host dinner to be given tonight prior to Mrs. John Galt's dance will include Mr. and Mrs. Geoffrey Tulliage, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Wattie, Mr. Charles Heisterman, Miss Eleanor Heisterman, Miss Jean Lennox, Miss Gloria Wilson, Miss Elizabeth Ruggles, Mr. William Dunbar, Mr. K. R. Sangster and Mr. George Phillips.

Mrs. Nellie McClung was the guest of honor at an attractively arranged tea given by the Victoria branch of the Canadian Authors' Association at the Empress Hotel yesterday afternoon, the affair was held in the tea room, Mrs. F. G. Berton, the president, receiving the guests, among whom, in addition to the members, were Mrs. Irene Baird, Miss Alice Ravenhill, Mrs. J. O. Cameron, Miss Audrey Alexandra Brown, Mrs. G. A. Yardley, Mrs Robert C. Fair, Mr. A. H. Sutherland, Mrs. T. S. Gore and Mrs. W. K. McCarter. Mrs. McClung brought greetings from Toronto and national branches of the Authors' Association and also spoke briefly of her expeeriences as a League of Nations delegate at Geneva, and at the Oxford Group's world assembly at Interlaken, Switzerland. Mrs. Doris Ferne and Miss M. Eugenie Perry presided at the tea table, which was centred with a lovely bowl of pink chrysanthemums and maidenhair fern, and assisting on the reception committee were: Mrs. Ebbs-Canavan, Mrs. Myrtle Lane, Mrs. Floris McLaren, Rev. W. P. Hicks and Mr. Donald Fraser.

Yesterday evening at their home on Rockland Avenue Colonel and Mrs. T. M. Knox were hosts at an American Thanksgiving dinner, when covers were laid for 10 guests.

Dr. Olga Jardine, president of the Local Council of Women, entertained at an informal reception at her home on Despard Avenue last night in honor of the delegates attending the Proing, following attendance at Sir George Paish's lecture last evening. The reception rooms were attractive with flowers, the supper table, at which Mrs. M. Gloy, the hostess' mother, presided, being centred with a bowl of golden chrysanthemums and lighted by tapers.

The Misses Isabel Jane Stuart, and Anne Tipp were joint hostesses at a miscellaneous shower last night at 2615 Wark Street, in honor of Miss Eleanor Stuart, whose marriage to Mr. Ted Pistell will take place next week. Little Miss Elsie Pistell, sister of the groom, presented Miss Stuart with a corsage of talisman roses, upon her arrival. Gold and bronze chrysanthemums were used attractively in the reception rooms. A basket prettily decorated in pink and white crepe paper concealed the many lovely gifts. During the evening games were played, the winners being Misses Marion Kerr, Mary Craigdallie, Eva Clear, Violet Medley. A solo was rendered by Miss Marion Kerr. The invited guests were: Mrs. Tipp, Vancouver; Mrs. Leonard, Mrs. Vokes, Mrs. Strong, Mrs. Kerr, Mrs. Grover, Mrs. Greenhough, Mrs. Herriot, Mrs. Crow; Misses Lucy and Skippy Zilnic, Muriel Strong, Eva Clear, Marion Jean Kerr, Elsie Pistell, Jean Milton, Margaret Emery, Beatrice Shotten, Isabel Jane Stuart, Mary Craigdallie, Margaret Fletcher, Violet Medley, "Mickey" Stuart, Margaret and "Teenie" Burnett, Esther Allman and Anne Tipp.

Mrs. W. A. Dempsey and Mrs. M. E. Robb were joint hostesses at a miscellaneous shower on Wednesday afternoon, at the home of Mrs. Dempsey, 3298 Tennyson Avenue, in compliment to Miss Marion Argall, a December bride-elect. The living-room was attractive with white streamers and bronze chrysanthemums. A prettily decorated water-can was suspended from an arch of ferns, a spray of streamers being attached to the many pretty and useful gifts. Dainty refreshments were served by the hostesses assisted by Mrs. F. Baylis, Mrs. W. Baylis and Mrs. J. P. Dempsey. The invited guests were Mrs. Amos, Mrs. C. A. Argall, Mrs. Buxton, Mrs. F. Baylis, Mrs. W. Baylis, Mrs. J. H. Dempsey, Mrs. J. P. Dempsey, Mrs. Elsie Dempsey, Mrs. McKague, Mrs. J. Froud, Mrs. Spence, Mrs. W. Wilkinson, Mrs. C. J. Wilson, Mrs. Squarr, Mrs. Hopkins, Mrs. Turner, Mrs. W. Mobey, Mrs. Frewing, Mrs. H. Henderson, Mrs. M. Hughes, Mrs. Lamb, Mrs. Giles, Mrs. Wrigley, Mrs. Rumble, Mrs. V. Nelson, Mrs. L. Municipal I.O.D.E. Hears Reports

Reports of the various activities were presented by conveners at the monthly meeting of the Municipal Chapter I.O.D.E. yesterday afternoon, Mrs. K. C. Symons, the regent, presiding. Mrs. Symons will present the Vancouver Municipal trophy to the University School Cadet Corps on Wednesday. She reported placing a wreath on the Cenotaph on Remembrance Day.

Mrs. R. Shanks will be assisted by Mrs. Symons in convening the joint entertainment of I.O.D.E. chapters in February. There will be door prizes and all standards will be present. Miss Colpman and Mrs. Wallace will have charge of the decorations.

Mrs. A. H. C. Phipps gave a report as convener of the corner on Poppy Day. In order to cooperate with the newly-inaugurated archives department of the Provincial Chapter, primary chapters were asked to appoint representatives to investigate all old records and report findings to Mrs. Phipps. Mrs. F. F. Beckett announced that pictures of the King and Queen suitable for schools were now available.

Mrs. J. E. Flack, the standard-bearer, reported that according to National Chapter ruling, standards should never be dipped except in the presence of royalty. Mrs. Mellor, child welfare convener, spoke of the silver tea and garment shower held by Gonzales Chapter. Mrs. C. W. Plumb, convener of soldiers' graves announced that one grave will be renovated.

Mrs. George Miles asked for donations for the completion of the second story of the St. Helena School at Poona, India. Mrs. Bob Shanks told the members that a new company of Girl Guides was now open for adoption.

Mrs. A. S. Christie reported that excellent work was being done in connection with the Dominion-Provincial youth training classes.

The gathering stood in silent tribute to the memory of the late Queen Maud of Norway.

Says Japan Fostering China Drug Traffic

TORONTO (CP) — Senator Cairine R. Wilson, president of the League of Nations Society of Canada, told the Women's Liberal Association of Forest Hill last night that efforts of the League of Nations to stamp out the narcotic trade in Manchuria had progressed successfully until Japan entered the country. But at the present time the production of drugs had become a "frightful menace."

BELMONT Y.P.A.

Belmont young people entertained Centennial Y.P.S. at a social in the church schoolroom. Miss Josephine Dobbie sang "Ave Maria," accompanied by Mrs. E. Harwood at the piano. Roy Hundleby presided, Audrey Morrison read the scripture and Rev. B. H. Wallace led in prayer. After community singing, led by Roy Whittle, the social committee under Norma Emery conducted a series of games. The presidents of the two societies, Jim McCague of Centennial and Roy Hundleby of Belmont, exchanged greetings on behalf of their respective societies, and Bill McDowell of Trail brought good wishes from the United Church societies there. Refreshments were served by the members of that committee, Kay Knott, Mona Emery and Margaret Jaynes.

GORDON HEAD P.-T.A.

At the last general meeting of the Gordon Head P.-T.A., after dealing with matters relative to sports equipment, stage curtains and educational magazines for the school, the members decided to purchase envelopes from the Federated P.-T.A. for members to use for fees. It was also decided that members be asked to be hostesses and to donate refreshments, according to a list with names compiled alphabetically. The president suggested the formation of a committee to get in touch with and visit sick members. Mrs. Reese Burns spoke on "The Subconscious Mind," and illustrated her talk with sketches and anecdotes from her own childhood days.

MEAFORD, Ont.—Edward B. Knight found a Bible among his belongings which he claims is 347 years old. It was printed in Edinburgh, Scotland, and the date 1591 is stamped on the inside cover.

Millions Spent On U.S. 'Deb' Parties

NEW YORK (AP)—The question of debutante parties bobbed up again today with the finding, announced after some research, that fond papas will spend approximately $8,000,000 to introduce their daughters to "polite society" this season.

Actual cost of the debut parties for 1,000 eligible 18-year-old girls in New York and 15 other of the biggest and wealthiest cities in the United States was placed by Fortune Magazine at approximately $3,000,000 — for champagne, orchestras, engraved announcements, scrambled eggs with sausages, et cetera. The total cost for the "coming out" year—exclusive of $3,000 for a wardrobe, was figured to around $8,500 each.

It's still a big business, Fortune said after a survey of the debutante scene, but the debutantes are all dressed up with no place to go because, the magazine said, there is very little "polite society" left into which they can be introduced.

More "findings" from the research:

"Society in the United States today is little more than a stag line of college boys and unemployed young men. . . Adults, and especially men—marriageable or otherwise — have almost completely disappeared from the society into which a girl makes her debut today. They have disappeared because the social game costs time and money. . ."

Social and Personal

Mrs. Gerald Sanford left for her home in Vancouver on Wednesday after visiting her mother, Mrs. Montizambert, in this city.

Mr. Herbert Kent, Douglas Street, is spending a few days in Seattle with his son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Truesdell Kent.

Miss Marion Argall was the guest of honor at a miscellaneous shower on Wednesday night at the home of Miss Dorothy Clark, 414 Durban Street. The bride-to-be was seated under a prettily-decorated arch done in pale pink and green paper and received her many beautiful gifts in a box decorated in the same colors. During the evening games were played and Miss Doris Frewing sang an appropriate song, after which refreshments were served. Those present were: Mrs. Argall, Mrs. Clark, Mrs. A. Rogers, Mrs. Frewing, Mrs. Sloan, Mrs. Cutt and the Misses Marion Argall, Joan Line, Eileen Crewe, Jennie Perullet, Joyce and Isabel Gibson, Hilda Anderson, Doris and Joan Frewing, Ruth Hall and Dot and Jessie Clark.

Mrs. Gus Genis was hostess on Thursday evening at her home on Caledonia Avenue, where a party was held in honor of Miss Edna Taylor, who was celebrating her 21st birthday. The evening was enjoyed playing the game monopoly, the winner being Miss Edna Taylor. Refreshments were served from a table centred with a beautiful birthday cake. The invited guests were Mr. and Mrs. Gus Genis, Mr. and Mrs. James MacAree, Mr. and Mrs. George Taylor and the Misses Beverly MacAree, Pearl McPhee and Jane Taylor and Messrs Fred Warman, James and Robert MacAree, Ronald and Percy Genis, Johnny Lennan and Kenneth Munn.

Victoria Poet in New Anthology

AS I SAT ALONE by my fireside one evening in November—yes, it was November in my soul—I sensed the change of season as oft before. Picking up the evening paper I saw blazoned across the front page

"Armistice Celebration a Huge Success."

Glorious weather. Citizens turned out by the thousands. I read more. The paper later slipped from my lap. Deep in thought I gazed absent-mindedly into the fire. A scene stretched out before me, in the lower left hand corner of which there appeared to be a huge mass of smouldering ruins, forms and objects unlike anything I had ever seen before. But in the vapor and smoke arising from this mass of ruins I could clearly see the words in passing, Force, Genious and Power.

My gaze followed on. In the centre of the scene the gray-blue smoke coiled up and around to form a huge oval plaque. A sombre scene, I'll admit, but fascinating and, as I looked upon this strange sight there suddenly flashed around and about it, a halo of glory, sunburst of diamonds, forming a gorgeous frame. In this etheric splendor I saw words, words and more words, such as Hope, Charity, Peace, Brotherly Love, Tolerance, Faith, Goodwill and National Friendship.

This was indeed unusual. I stood there in utt amazement. Upon closer examination I found this scene. Shall we call it a picture? It rested upon a huge structure of easel, well supported from every angle, and upon the base I distinctly saw the words in bold lettering, "League of Nations."

What a strange picture! I noted especially that the artist's name was not on this masterpiece. Everyone passing by seemed deeply interested in the painting. I moved on with the crowd and out of the gallery. Never could I forget this odd spectacle!

Years later I returned to view again this fascinating picture. Imagine my surprise and disappointment; the scene had surely changed. The easel had been broken. The huge, massive supports were missing. The once beautiful picture hung askew. I waited long to see that gorgeous frame once more but it was too changed—its former splendor gone! The words were missing. Even passersby took little heed of this seeming wreck. I too moved on with heavy tread, sad heart, and thoughts, thoughts. Always thoughts. Something tragic had happened here!

I awoke with a sudden start, realizing it was November 11, 1938. Where had I been? Had I been actually seeing things? Yes, and 20 years had passed since this scene was finished and hung in all its glory in Memory's Art Gallery.

What a dream!

Presentation Made to Local Sea Veteran

Samuel Bramley, sea veteran, who yesterday celebrated his 80th birthday and his 10th anniversary of "swallowing the anchor," was the guest of honor at a concert party given last night by the Army and Navy Veterans in Canada in the clubrooms, Wharf Street. A set of smoking pipes with accessories was made to Mr. Bramley by members of the club.

Those taking part in the entertainment program, which was under the chairmanship of Aubrey Jones, were: E. H. Kelly, H. MacDonald, comedian; E. Bryson, baritone; John Bonner, soloist; W. Boulter and E. Dysart, sketch; Bert Osgoode, tenor solo; David Donaldson, soloist; Samuel Smith, songs, and Jack Warriner, recitation.

Mohammedan Last Rites

EDMONTON (CP)—Rites of ancient Islam were performed in Edmonton yesterday in the presence of more than 200 Mohammedans gathered in Canada's only Moslem mosque for the funeral of the late Ali Tarrabain. It was the first full-service Mohammedan funeral held in the Dominion, and the first burial in the new Moslem graveyard at Beechmount Cemetery.

Ali Tarrabain, pioneer Alberta merchant, dropped dead here Monday in his 59th year.

Newly risen star in the New York theatrical firmament is Adele Longmire of New Orleans. Critics acclaimed her "Ann Rutledge" in the current hit, "Abe Lincoln in Illinois."

Japan-German Culture Accord

Agreement Signed for Co-operation, But No Japanese Anti-Jew Moves

TOKIO (AP) — Japanese and German governments Friday signed an accord on cultural co-operation, but the Foreign Office spokesman said "the agreement does not mean that Japan is going to persecute Jews."

The accord recognizes the respective "racial principles" of the two countries (Nazi culture is built on the thesis of a pure German race). Many Jews in Japan, a large number of them teachers, had expressed apprehension.

Details are to be determined later, but the practical phases of the agreement are for co-operation among youth groups, an exchange of professors, students, books, periodicals, objects of art, films and radio broadcasts.

Committee for cultural work are to be established.

Japan, the Foreign Office statesmen said, is willing to sign a similar accord with any nation "with which we have good relations."

The new accord is a corollary to the Japanese - German accord against world communism, to which Italy also adheres.

Starvation Now Main Weapon of Francoists

NEW YORK (AP)—Ernest Hemingway, novelist, returned from Spain yesterday with the declaration that the insurgent forces in Spain were "fought out."

NEW LIBERAL M.P.P. FOR REGINA

B. J. McDaniel Retains Seat for Party In By-election

REGINA (CP) — Saskatchewan's Liberal government, which lost a member in the first provincial by-election following the June 8 general election, was successful yesterday in a second appeal to the electors when Capt. B. J. McDaniel, M.C., defeated four other candidates in Regina.

Liberals led by Premier W. J. Patterson now hold 37 of the 52 legislature seats, Co-operative Commonwealth Federation 11, Social Credit 2 and Independents 2.

The Regian voting yesterday was necessitated by appointment of P. M. Anderson, Liberal, to the Court of King's bench.

McDaniel retained the seat with a plurality of 4,410 over R. M. Balfour, Conservative, polling 10,334 votes to Balfour's 5,924; Alderman C. C. Williams, C.C.F., 4,324; J. B. McLeod, Independent Social Credit, 193, and Cornelius Rink, Social Credit, 145.

Educated at St. Francois Xavier College, Antigonish, N.S., Mr. McDaniel came west to Herbert, Sask., in 1913. He went overseas in 1915 and on his return went to Punnichy, Sask. He came to Regina in 1928, becoming a member of the law firm of Anderson, McDaniel and Alexander.

In the only other by-election since the general election—that in Humboldt riding August 4—Hon. C. M. Dunn, Minister of Highways, was defeated by Joseph Burton, C.C.F., 3,908 to 3,763.

Six Killed in Crash Of Italian Warships

ROME (AP)—A collision between the Italian cruiser Pola and the destroyer Lamp in which six men were killed and several injured was announced officially yesterday.

The navy said the crash, which occurred in the Gulf of Taranto, between the "heel" and "toe" of southern Italy, was due to the failure of the Lamp's rudder. It was understood the accident occurred during a heavy storm.

The Pola is a seven-year-old 10,000-ton cruiser. The Lamp is of 1,220 tons.

Says Invasion United China

Dr. Grant Lathe to Address Victoria College Group Tonight at 8

Dr. Grant Lathe, McGill Universtiy graduate and national secretary of the Canadian Student Assembly, who was one of the four members of the student delegation which visited China this year, will address the International Relations Society at Victoria College tonight at 8.

On his arrival in Victoria yesterday in the course of a lecture tour, Dr. Grant said the Japanese invasion of China had driven the Chinese peoples into greater unity than the nation had ever known before.

The Chinese scholars now formed one of the most outstanding groups in the country, Dr. Lathe said. Education was of primary importance in China's policy of resistance, and the students were carrying on thousands of adult educational projects. Students of the West China Union University during the past summer had carried on a large program of education along scholastic, agricultural and health lines, in an endeavor to build up a more sound community.

The international student delegation, of which there were four members, were afforded special privileges in war-torn China. They traveled 6,000 miles visiting nine provinces.

Dr. Lathe said even the high school students in China were playing an important part in the mass education campaign and many are joining the Chinese Red Cross. Women were working on the same basis as men, wearing uniforms and serving under the same conditions.

Owing to unforeseen circumstances Dr. Lathe will be unable to keep his Sunday engagements in Victoria, but will speak to a group of teachers and young people tomorrow morning at the Y.W.C.A.

J. A. Neary Heads Ward 3 Liberals

Mohammedan Last Rites at Edmonton

J. A. Neary was elected president of the Ward Three Liberal Association at the annual meeting in Liberal Headquarters last night. He succeeds Stanley Creed.

Other executive officers named were: Ed. Youngs, vice-president; R. M. Allen, secretary; P. Macdonald, treasurer and P. Lilley, C. Foxall, E. Hampton, Mrs. R. B. Simm and Mrs. R. Berry, executive committee. Mr. Foxall and Mrs. Simm were named delegates to the central executive. W. T. Straith M.P.P. was named honorary president and J. D. Fraser, honorary vice-president.

Speakers at the meeting were Carew Martin, president of the central executive; Eric Wilkinson, president of the Saanich Liberal Association and R. C. Lowe, president of the Ward Two Liberal Association.

HORROR PICTURE SHOCKS MEMBERS

C.C.F. Members Say Children Should Not Have Seen Film

Methods of censorship of motion pictures in British Columbia came under fire in the Legislature last night when the $12,118 vote for this purpose was discussed in estimates committee.

Mrs. Dorothy Steeves, C.C.F., North Vancouver, said some pictures were too strongly censored and others too lightly.

Gangster pictures, she said, were harmful to children. She specially attacked what she called "horror pictures." She had been to one in Victoria this week, she said, and was amazed by the number of children there.

"If the parents are not wise enough to keep their children away the government should do something about it," she said.

Censors, she said, must be well educated, cultured people.

E. E. Winch, C.C.F, Burnaby, objected to advertisements of the "horror picture" shown here. He said they contained such words as "we dare you to see it—he drinks the blood of his victims."

"Censors have a peculiar conception of their responsibility," he said.

The vote was stood over on request of the C.C.F.

Better Defence of West Coast Urged

Construction of Military Roads, Anti-aircraft Bases Sought

A resolution urging the Minister of National Defence to consider the construction of military roads, anti-aircraft bases and other military projects in this district in the interests of the proper defence of C[illegible] and for the employment it will create, was drafted last night at a meeting of the district council of the Canadian Legion in the Naval Veterans' Branch. The resolution will be forwarded to the provincial command.

Through the various Canadian Legion channels a request will be made to the Dominion headquarters for the King and Queen to be asked to insnect ex-servicemen of this district when they visit Canada next summer.

It was reported that the annua Poppy Day campaign of the legion had received record support throughout the province.

The council reiterate its stand in supporting recommendatio of the Veterans' Assistance Commission in regard to favorable consideration by the Dominion Government of the adoption of the economic allowance proposa' for unemployed veterans in Canada.

The meeting passed a vote of condolence to the family of the late Paymaster, Captain W. J. C Johnston, R.N., retired, who had been a valued member of the council. He acted as secretary of the Naval Veterans' branch for a number of years.

Says Trust of Public Vital

Confidence 'Greatest Asset We Have,' A. J. Irving Tells Insurance Men

"In our position as the country's biggest holders of funds we are afraid of criticism or questions," A. J. Irving, Dominion president of the Canadian Life Underwriters, told members of the local organization in a banquet address at the Pacific Club last night.

Making his first trip to the coast in his present capacity as national head of the insurance group, Mr. Irving said he was greatly impressed by the vastness of Canada's area and natural resources.

"In my travels through the country I have not seen a finer class of men than those who are members of the Canadian Life Underwriters," he declared. "We have one purpose—to better fit ourselves to give better service to the public. No organization can be so perfect that it cannot be improved."

"In our business, confidence plays a great part; let us not destroy that confidence because it is the greatest asset we have," he declared. Mr. Irving said that last year Canadian insurance companies paid out to the public in cash $140,000,000. "Our value must be measured by the size of our contribution to society," he asserted. While other institutions had failed in their purpose, the life insurance business had rode the storms of the depression without government assistance, he told the meeting.

The $140,000,000 represented 80 per cent more than all the relief paid out by all the governments of the country, both provincial and Dominion. "Divert that stream or take it away and see what would happen to business," he said.

Mr. Irving told of the co-operative nature of the insurance business which made every policyholder "a partner" in the particular company he dealt with. "What could be more socialistic than life insurance," the speaker declared. The average life claim last year was $2,300, he told the members.

Frank Taylor, president of the Victoria branch of the association, was in the chair. Ken Ferguson and Fred McGregor thanked the speaker. Jack Filtness contributed two banjo numbers to the evenings musical program.

Car Rhythm Is Featured

1939 Oldsmobile Is Now on Display in City

Riding rhythm is the keynote of the 1939 Oldsmobile, in both standard and de luxe models, now on display in the Davis-Drake. Motors Limited showrooms. The rhythmic ride, states C. W. Lovell, Oldsmobile sales manager for the firm, is made possible by Quadricoil spring and four-way stabilization, plus such proven features as independent front wheel suspension, dual centre control steering and super hydraulic brakes.

"The object of Quadricoil springs," added Mr. Lovell, "is with the independent front wheel suspension, to entirely divorce the steering from the stress and strain caused in applying the brakes and to allow the use of long travel soft springs that are balanced in action with the rear springs. In this combination, tire wear is reduced to the minimum. The success of this design has been proved by General Motors over a period of five years. The Quadricoil springs provided a constant rate of spring deflection throughout the entire length of the spring travel and are not affected by the degree of lubrication or variation of temperature."

Another great feature of the new Oldsmobile is the prevention of fore and aft movement by the stabilizer arms attached to the frame. In the rear two sturdy stabilizer arms extend from the axle to the frame, which eliminates side roll in turning corners. Roll or sway on curves is eliminated, both front and rear.

Gradual, smooth yet positive hydraulic brakes allow a straight line stop.

The new Oldsmobile is powered by a six-cylinder, 95-horsepower engine that is a revelation in smooth operation.

To Relieve Catarrh, Catarrhal Deafness And Head Noises

Persons suffering from catarrhal deafness, or who are growing hard of hearing and have head noises will be glad to know that this distressing affliction can usually be successfully treated at home by an internal medicine that in many instances has effected complete relief after other treatments have failed. Sufferers who could scarcely hear have had their hearing restored to such an extent that the tick of a watch was plainly audible seven or eight inches away from either ear. Therefore, if you know of someone who is troubled with head noises or catarrhal deafness, cut out this formula and hand it to them and you may have been the means of saving some poor sufferer perhaps from total deafness. The prescription can be prepared at home and is made as follows:

Secure from your druggist one ounce of Parmint (Double Strength). Take this home and add to it ¼ pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar; stir until dissolved. Take one tablespoonful four times a day.

Parmint is used in this way not only to reduce by tonic action the inflammation and swelling in the Eustachian Tubes, and thus to equalize the air pressure on the drum, but to correct any excess of secretions in the middle ear, and the results it gives are nearly always quick and effective.

Every person who has catarrh in any form, or distressing, rumbling, hissing sounds in their ears, should give this recipe a trial.

Saanich Sets Relief Bonuses

Relief recipients of Saanich will receive Christmas cash bonuses of varying amounts according to the size of families, the Saanich Council decided last night. The bonus will be paid on December 22.

Families of two or three will receive $4.80, four or more, $6.40, and single persons, $3.20. Of these amounts the government will contribute $3.20 for married persons and $1.20 for single persons.

Native Sons to Welcome Factor

Committee Appointed to Arrange for Visit of G. A. Brine, New Westminster

George A. Brine, New Westminster, grand factor of the Native Sons of British Columbia will make an official visit to Post No. 1, Victoria, Saturday evening, December 3.

A committee from the local branch consisting of L. Good, B. Honor, J. A. Bland and F. W. Walker was oppointed at a recent meeting to make arrangements for the arrival of the grand factor. An invitation has been extended to the members of Post No. 2, Native Daughters, to be present to hear the visitor's address.

Reports were read of the recent invitation dance sponsored by the Native Sons and Daughters Posts and it was decided to continue the monthly affairs. The next invitation dance will be held in the Oak Bay Theatre Hall Tuesday, December 13.

The Victoria post again went on record as being opposed to annexation of the Yukon and the building of the Alaska Highway. It was suggested that before any further large road program be undertaken, the present highways of the province should be put in good shape.

The post reiterated its stand as being against any further Asiatic immigration and suggested a further study of the situation by the public.

More than 1,600 languages are spoken in north, south and central America.

THIEVES GIVEN JAIL SENTENCE

Donald Stancil, 19, and Vernon Reid, 17, who pleaded guilty to a series of robbery charges in Saanich, Esquimalt and Oak Bay, were sentenced to 18 and 15 months' imprisonment, respectively, by Magistrate Hall yesterday.

The youths appeared in Esquimalt and Saanich courts.

On each of seven charges against Stancil in Esquimalt he was sentenced to 18 months, terms running concurrently. Reid was given 15 months on each of six Esquimalt charges. Similar concurrent terms were given Stancil on five charges in Saanich. There were four Saanich charges against Reid.

Argentina, Australia and New Zealand are the world's greatest wool-producing countries.

WENSTOB MATCHED

EDMONTON — Emilio Martinez, a topnotch light-heavyweight from Los Angeles, will meet Eddie Wenstob, western Canada heavyweight and light-heavyweight champion, in a 10-round bout here December 13, promoter Freddie Osborne announced yesterday.

B.C. SEEKS MORE POWER FOR CBR

Premier Pattullo announced in the Legislature last night the government has asked the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation to increase the power of station CBR in Vancouver so it can be heard all over the province.

George M. Murray, Liberal, Lillooet, said it was a disgrace to Canada that people in the interior of B.C. could not hear CBR in daylight hours and had to take most of their radio entertainment from U.S. stations.

The Premier said he understood from the corporation heads that steps would be taken to remedy the condition.

HIGH SCHOOL PRINTS PAPER

The first press-printed Camosunet, Victoria High School periodical, was given an enthusiastic reception by students when it was distributed yesterday afternoon.

The paper was published by members of the school's journalism club under the direction of Mrs. Hazel Hodson.

The original Camosunet was published last year as a joint undertaking by Beta Delta and Portia, debating societies of the school, and was mimeographed. This year the newly-formed Journalism Club took over publication of the paper and before yesterday's issue had published two mimeographed papers, which were so popular that it was decided to launch a real press-printed paper in newspaper style.

GERMAN HISTORIAN DIES

BERLIN (AP) — Dr. Erich Marcks, historian noted for his works on the Bismarckian era, died yesterday at the age of 77.

$70,500 Offer For Matthews

Tottenham Club Willing To Pay Record Price For Stoke Soccer Star

LONDON (CP) — Stanley Matthews, one of the cleverest outside-rights ever to kick a ball, is again a top-liner on English sport pages. Last year, Stoke City refused the international footballer's request for a transfer and now wealthy clubs are reported to be offering record sums for his release.

But Matthews is worth his weight in gold to the Midland squad now struggling to keep out of the relegation zone of the English League's first division and directors are turning a deaf ear to all offers. It is said Tottenham Hotspurs have raised the bid to £15,000 ($70,500), this figure being £1,000 more than the record sum Arsenal paid Wolverhampton Wanderers for Bryn Jones last summer.

The risk attending such high-priced adventures is indicated in the Arsenal's line-up to do battle at Middlesbrough in league warfare tomorrow. Jones will be missing. The Welsh international is suffering from a knee injury.

Feature of tomorrow's soccer card is the meeting of Leeds United and the league-leading Derby County on the former's ground. Derby has a four-point margin over the third-place Yorkshire team and a thrilling struggle for points is certain.

CUP GAMES

Forty-one third division teams enter the first round proper for the English Cub along with 27 representatives of minor leagues, successful in the competition's qualifying rounds. Barnsley, York City and Notts County, three other third division squads, are exempted until the third round of the tournament, January 7, when first and second divison teams get into the fray.

SCOTTISH LEAGUE

[illegible] winning streak that has netted the amateur squad maximum points in the last five games, Queens Park opposes Glasgow Ranges tomorrow in what promises to feature the Scottish football card.

A month ago the amateurs were floundering at the bottom of the major league table, but since then a reorganized team has scored 18 goals against nine and jumped to 13th position. Against the league-leading Rangers, Queens Park faces the toughest opposition of the campaign to date.

Unbeaten since October 22, the Light Blues are setting the pace with a four-point advantage over Celtic, the latter fading after driving to the front with a series of wins in September and October. The Celts play at Arbroath and based on the season's showing the home team are likely to take a severe whipping.

In the event of a slip by the Celts, Hearts may jump into the runner-up position. The powerful Edinburgh club, with 21 points, is only one behind Celtic and is away at the week-end to Raith Rovers, another club in the league's danger zone.

Tied for fourth place are Partick Thistle and Kilmarnock. Both have the advantage of home fixtures and are favored to win. The Thistles tackle St. Johnstone, while the Killies entertain Albion Rovers, successful only three times this season.

Queen of the South, battling to maintain a place with the championship contenders, opposes the erratic Aberdeen squad at Dumfries, and Motherwell is at home to Third Lanark, low-priced Glasgow outfit

Outstanding match in the second vision is scheduled for Cowdenbeath, where the league-leading home team is opposed by Alloa, fourth in the standing.

By PETE SALLAWAY

SCORING in professional golf tournaments has become little short of phenomenal in the past year. There was a time when a par total would win any big tournament, but not these days. The average winning figure now is eight under par. Sammy Snead recently bagged the White Sulphur Springs open on his home course with a seven-under-par 273, blazing a 32 on the final nine holes.

Every winter the pro schedule in the United States brings to light a new name on the golfing horizon. Snead was comparatively unknown two years ago. He made a good showing in the Los Angeles open, but his name wasn't heard around the golfing world until he accounted for the Oakland open with a spectacular 270. Snead's rise was like the meteoric spurt of Horton Smith in 1929. Both were named members of the U.S. Ryder Cup team in their freshman years in big-time competition.

Jug McSpaden, Byron Nelson and other stars came out of the winter gold chase. Last winter the outstanding new name was that of Frank Moore of St. Louis and Quaker Ridge.

Experience under fire obtained on the winter circuit has been the biggest single contributing factor to the lowering of professional scoring.

The money players switched from White Sulphur Springs to Pinehurst for the Mid-south. They go from there to Columbia, S.C., and then to Augusta, where the P.G.A. seniors' championship follows the Augusta open. They get in the Miami open, December 15 [illegible] to remain until early February. They stop in San Antonio and New Orleans before returning to Florida.

The bulk of the sharpshooters will compete in at least 19 tournaments . . . for purse money aggregating at least $100,000. The richest tournaments are the Miami and New Orleans opens, where the coin totals $10,000 in each case.

The long trek ends with the Bobby Jones Masters' Tournament at Augusta, March 30 to April 2. This big show will be spread over four days this trip, with 18 holes a day.

Snead's earnings of $18,272 to date give the one-time hillbilly the distinction of setting an all-time high for P.G.A. tournaments for a single year. The figure does not include sectional sweepstake tournaments, long driving contests, and other ways a professional might make money.

But Gene Sarazen still has the honor of having won the richest purse ever offered. The Connecticut gentleman farmer captured an Agua Caliente open for which purse money was $25,000, and $10,000 of it went to him.

Ralph Guldahl, who has been resting at his Miami home following a minor operation, is ready for action again.

Walter Hagen will play in the California tournaments. Walter has been in New York for a movie short which will be used by the P.G.A. in promotion work. Snead and Harry Cooper also performed for the film.

Winner of 55 major titles in 25 years of stirring competition, Hagen has not lost the magic touch.

The Old Haig remains one of the greater attractions of golf.

High School Rugby

House 4, captained by Alec Walker, widened its lead in the Victoria High School Interhouse Rugby League on Wednesday, when they downed House 2 by a score of 6 to 0.

Wally Williams scored the first three points in the first stanza by converting a fee kick which was awarded for off side.

Ray Whitehouse scored the second try when he went over from a scrimmage on the five-yard line in the second half.

On Monday House 3 swamped House 1 by a score of 15 to 0.

SOCCER SELECTION

To the Sports Editor:—I would like to suggest the following team as one of the elevens for the trial match to be played before the next intercity engagement here: Goal, T. Restall, Victoria West; full-backs, D. Gent and L. Cann, both of Spencers; half-backs, L. Kennedy, Hudson's Bay; C. Restall, Victoria West; A. Reside, Spencers; forwards, G. Barnes, Victoria West; J. Stewart, Esquimalt; T. Halkett, Esquimalt; A. Ross, Navy and A. Dallimore, Victoria West.

I would suggest the match be played on a Sunday afternoon at Bullen Park and a collection taken for the benefit of the Victoria United.

Pheasants Cost $1.30

Whenever a hunter shoots a pheasant that has been raised by the game department, it is a prize worth $1.30.

There are 15,937 of these prizes flying around the woods of British Columbia this year, Attorney-General Wismer revealed when he answered questions in the Legislature that this number of birds have been released by the department this year. The average cost for birds not less than 12 weeks old is $1.30, and for adult or breeding birds $1.50.

Armstrong 2 to 3 Choice Over Garcia for Title Bout Tonight

NEW YORK — Henry Armstrong has been paid some nice compliments in the course of his mad career, but the bookmakers and the betting public have handed him his greatest one today by installing him a 2 to 3 favorite over Ceferino Garcia for their 15-round welterweight title bout tonight in Madison Square Garden.

The thousands of words written and said about Garcia's murdering punches have done nothing to shake the public's confidence in the little Negro wonder. The fact that the husky Filipino will outweigh Henry by 12 pounds when they enter the ring is worth only a bored "so what?" from Henry's loyal rooters.

Few fighters ever have gained such a hold on the customers. Promoter Mike Jacobs says indications are that the big hall will be packed, with close to $115,000 in the till. Only four reserved tickets were turned back when the bout was postponed from its original date, November 2.

HAVE FINE RECORDS

Though Garcia has a record nearly as striking as Armstrong's over the last two years, and has been belting out welterweights and middleweights while Henry was rolling up 39 consecutive victories over the little fellows, Armstrong remains the drawing card.

Armstrong knows how to fight only one way, ever crowding his man, ever throwing punches, bullying and wrestling his opponent ceaselessly until there is no more fight left in the other man.

Garcia, while not as smart as Armstrong, is a savage fighter. He is equally as strong and tireless as the Negro. Probably he is stronger, for he has been holding his own against good middleweights.

The consensus seems to be that Armstrong has the better chance of grabbing the decision if it goes the full 15 rounds, and that Garcia, if he is going to win, will have to do it by a knockout.

Paul Rowe Here For Holiday Visit

Victoria's Paul Rowe, who has been performing for the Calgary Bronks football squad this season, arrived in town yesterday for a 10-day visit. Rowe, who has been making a name for himself on the Prairie gridiron playing for the Calgary team, likes the Canadian game as well as the American brand which he played in the uniform of the University of Oregon for two years.

The juvenile soccer match between Esquimalt Meat Market and Maple Leafs scheduled tomorrow at Heywood Avenue has been switched to the lower Beacon Hill pitch.

INTERMEDIATE RUGBY CARDED

While the Victoria reps battle Varsity tomorrow on the mainland, intermediate rugby will take the spotlight here with the league-leading Oak Bay Wanderers meeting the scrappy little Canadian Scottish fifteen at Macdonald Park [illegible] afternoon's program.

The Scottish senior squad will play a practice game against the Garrison at Work Point Barracks at 3. The second intermediate game scheduled for tomorrow will see the Navy Whites battle Victoria College on the lower field at Macdonald Park. The Scottish-Wanderers match will be played on the upper field. Both games will start at 2.45.

Line-ups follow:

Oak Bay Wanderers—MacDonald, Palin, McKay, Davie, Harmston, Turner, Elliott, Boate, Kennedy, Cook, Pearse, Corcoran, Brodigan, Williams, Page and Morrison.

Canadian Scottish — Sceats, Jones, Bishop, P. Martin, Mair, Sorenson, Williams, Oddy, McDonald, Holland, S. Martin, Malcolm, Ngai, Garrison, Clarkson and Knowles. Players to meet at the Armories at 2.15.

Mickey MacKay May Buy Spokane Club

SPOKANE — Mickey MacKay eastern Washington and British Columbia mining man and former coach of the Boston Bruins of the National Hockey League, started negotiations yesterday for purchase of the Spokane Clippers of the Pacific Coast Hockey League.

"I have some checking to do before I can give any definite statement," MacKay said. "But it looks as though I might acquire the Clippers."

MacKay came to Spokane yesterday to meet Art Rud, present owner of the Clippers. If the team was purchased, he said, it would be revamped immediately.

COMMERCIALS TEAM

The line-up of the Commercials for tomorrow night's basketball game in the Sunday School League at the Lake Hill gymnasium at 8.30 will be as follows: James D. McKay, J. McKay, Tisdale, Allen Monks, Clarke and Winterburn.

GOLF WINNERS

Mrs. Alan Morkill finished all square to lead A class in the November par competition held yesterday at the Colwood Golf Club. Mrs. J. H. Richardson was the leader in B division, being 2 down.

Basketball Tonight

International basketball will be resumed in Victoria tonight when the Dominoes oppose Seattle Home Undertakers at the High School gym in the first game of a best-of-three series for a new trophy, donated jointly by the two outfits.

A preliminary game between Ramblers and Bees will start at 8.

The teams will meet in a second game tomorrow night with the preliminary between Eight aces and Caveys, starting at the same time.

If a third game between the Dominoes and Home is necessary it will be played in Seattle, later the season.

The Home's lineup will be as follows: Joe Murray, Jack Mottishaw, Chet Johnson, Harry Kessler, John Fountain, Casey Davidson, George Smith, Bob Walker and Jim Corrigan.

Rangers Beat Toronto, Take Over Hockey Lead

Cup Football Games Carded

First Division Clubs Play Tomorrow in Price Cup Fixtures

First division soccer clubs will play in Price Cup matches tomorrow afternoon. At the Athletic Park, Victor West and Saanich Thistles will meet in a replay of their first round match with Dave Swan as referee, while at Heywood Avenue Esquimalt will engaged Victoria City, with J. C. Dowds as referee.

Both games will start at 2.15.

Lineups for teams tomorrow follow:

Victoria City—Chalmers, Youson, Glancy, Kelman, G. Robbins, Condon, Anson, Gunniss, Ord, Tregellis, Murray, J. Robbins, Gelling, C. Sadler, J. Sadler and Edwards. Players to meet at the Veterans of France at 1.45 p.m.

Hills Corner — Okell, Brown, Hudlin, Simpson, Thomas, Shubrook, Carson, Boniface, Holmes, Smith, Perkins, Bousfield, Evans and Greene.

Pee-Wees—Holland, Simpson, McDonald, Buxton, Atkinson, Blakemore, Denoni, Brown, Webster, Donaghy, Hodder, Graham, Gorst, Derr, Johnstone and Wharf.

Rovers — Lindsay, Eddison, Barr, E. Smith, Watson, McAllister, J. Smith, Sprinkling, Ranson, Allan, Dale, English, MacArthur and Ross.

Maple Leafs—Mackay, Prior, Clarke, Jones, Braithwaite, Donaghy, Popham, Penketh, McCaghey, Blyth, Neill, Smith, Treherene, Ricketts and Worthington. Players to be at Heywood Avenue ground at 10.15.

Victoria West — T. Restell, Wright, Bell, M. Smith, C. Restell, R. Barnes, G. Barnes, N. Sage, H. [illegible] and Jack.

Esquimalt—Hornsby, E. Stewart, McBay, John Watt, Laird, Joe Watt, Leggett, Halkett, Barnswel, A. Stewart, Bell, Payne, Moody, Holt and J. Stewart.

Saanich Thistles—Webster, Bissenden, Burgess, Underwood, Mowat, Speller, Hope, Hobson, Crowe, Ono, Alexander, Oakley, Tregellis and McDonald. Players are asked to be at the Athletic Park at 1.45.

Reps Make Cup Bid Tomorrow

Crimson Tide to Battle Thunderbirds at Varsity Stadium in Vancouver

Varsity stadium, where the Victoria rep rugby team was humbled and Bill Brown was injured last year, will be the scene of the Crimson Tide's initial bid for McKechnie Cup honors on the mainland tomorrow.

In top condition under the experienced coaching of Oak Bay's Wally Brynolfson, the local reps are favored to make the Thunderbirds sit up and take notice. Varsity and the Vancouver all-star fifteen have both had their chance to show their respective strengths this year and tomorrow it will be Victoria's turn, with the Capital City Squad in the role of dark horse for the occasion.

It will be like Jack going after the Giant, but this year a stronger, heavier and faster Jack. Supreme in the British Columbia rugby world until the Vancouver reps took them for a ride a couple of weeks ago, the Thunderbird strength has at least taken a psychological tumble in the minds of the local players and this should brook well for the right mental attitude in tomorrow's game.

VARSITY LINEUP

VANCOUVER — University of British Columbia will make three changes and two positional switches in their lineup for tomorrow's McKechnie Cup clash with Victoria reps at Varsity Stadium.

Coach A. B. Carey announced yesterday Basil Robinson will be replaced at half-back by Sandy Lang, while Alan Wallace and Fred Billings have been nominated to take the places of Ernie Teagle and Jerry Mason in the scrum.

Coach Carey announced Varsity will lineup against Victoria as follows: Johnny Bird, full back; Strat Leggatt, Howie McPhee, Harry Lumsden, Tod Tremblay, three-quarters; Ted McPhee, five-eighths; Sandy Lang, half-back; Alan Wallace, Andy Jenkins, Noel Harrison, Jim McCammon, Fred Billings, Tommy Robson, Ranji Mattu and Jim Harmer, forwards.

Tommy Anderson Scoring Leader

Tommy Anderson of New York Americans took over undisputed possession of first place in the National Hockey League scoring race last night by scoring both goals for his team as Amerks tied Montreal Canadians 2 to 2. With nine points, made up of five goals and four assists, Anderson has a point edge over Johnny Gottselig of Chicago, and another Amerk, Eddie Wiseman.

Four players are tied for fourth place, one point behind Wiseman and Gottselig. They are Bill Cowley of Boston, Mud Bruneteau of Detroit, Bryan Hexall of New York Rangers and Dave (Sweepey) Schriner of the Americans. Last night's firing found Toe Blake of Canadiens and Russ Blinco of Chicago dropping from the big seven when held pointless. Their places were taken by Bruneteau and Hextall.

Leaders follow:

	G.	A.	Pts.
Anderson, Americans	5	4	9

Wings Win But Lose Conacher

Suffers Injured Leg as Teammates Whip Chicago 4 to 2; Canadiens Tie

Just as Detroit Red Wings were regaining the punch of their National Hockey League championship years, Charlie Conacher's old injury jinx had to come along and damage a main cog in their comeback plans.

Conacher was carried from the ice before the Wings began to score in their 4 to 2 victory over the world champion Chicago Black Hawks at Detroit last night. The extent of the leg and shoulder injuries to big Chuck—one of the most brittle men in the game—remains to be determined today.

But no matter what the X-ray pictures say, the fact remains that Conacher has been lost to the Wings while the teams up front are setting a torrid pace in their bitter struggle for first place. Then, too, the last-place Montreal Canadiens, after seven straight defeats, may finally be knocking on the sixth-place Detroiters' door.

New York Rangers took a one-point lead at the top over Chicago, Boston and New York Americans last night by trimming Toronto 6 to 2 at New York. Canadiens registered their first point of the campaign by tieing Americans 2 to 2 at Montreal.

A collision with Phil Besler, Black Hawk rookie, forced Conacher out in the second period. The injury to the right winger was listed beside a shoulder hurt he suffered earlier in the season and a string of fractures, sprains and bruises he ran into during his years with Toronto.

Shortly after he went out the Wings got a chance to strike again. This time, with Alex Levinsky of Chicago serving a penalty, Mud Bruneteau paced the team. He scored after 18 minutes of the second and helped Syd Howe in another goal 46 seconds later.

Joffre Desilets scored for the Hawks as the third began, but Rookie Syd Abel made Detroit's margin 3 to 1 and Syd Howe extended it by another goal with seven minues to play. Paul

Library Vote Is Clarified

Saanich Council Hears Ratepayers' Views on Resuming Service

Wording of the library plebiscite which will be taken in Saanich on election day was altered by the Saanich Council last night to meet, in part, the request of a delegation of interested ratepayers.

The question which the electorate will be asked on December 17 was defined at follows: "Are you in favor of a library service in Saanich, the cost estimated to be 85 cents per property owner per annum and not to exceed $2."

The definition was given unanimous approval after a deadlocked vote on the definition asked by the delegation, which requested elimination of reference to the sum of $2 contained in the council's by-law, since it was generally agreed library costs would not reach this amount and would probably, in fact, not reach 85 cents.

Councillors J. W. Howroyd and L. H. Passmore moved for the definition, with the exception of the words "and not to exceed $2." On the vote they were joined by Reeve Crouch and Councillor A. G. Lambrick, with Councillors L. C. Hagan, J. Oliver, G. Austin and E. C. Warren opposing.

When the original definition was lost Councillors Austin and Oliver moved the resolution as it was finally passed.

ASKS CLARIFICATION

In presenting the case for the delegation, R. A. Williams, spokesman, urged the council to clarify its original ballot, which asked whether the people favored a library service, an assessment not to exceed $2 against each property owner or against every person between 21 and 60.

Ratepayers of Saanich had held a public meeting recently and unanimously favored asking only whether or not the service was favored in the ballot. In consultation with library officials the meeting had been told a maximum levy of 85 cents on property would cover the cost for five years, Mr. Williams said. The figure of $2 originally mentioned by the council had scared the people into feeling they must pay this amount.

The delegation was anxious to see the service established as soon as possible, he said.

In replying, Reeve Crouch said he did not think the council would object to resumption of the library service. Reviewing the question over several years, he said the service originally cost $500 annually and allowed any number of subscribers. Then the library board instituted a levy of 50 cents on each registration, which was stopped in 1928 when there were 326 subscribers.

Later there had been an agreement under which there was no charge to borrowers, and the subscribers' list grew to over 2,000. In 1930 it was discovered there were five or six cards in a family, and with the service costing Saanich $1.75 a head, such families did not pay enough in taxes to pay the library cost, he said. This had been a bad financial time for Saanich and the service was discontinued as an economy measure, he said.

USED BY FIFTH

Councillor E. C. Warren, Ward Two, pointed out that in 1930 all Saanich taxpayers were paying for the service which 26.5 per cent of the people were receiving. People of his ward were against a land assessment to pay for the service and contended if such services were to be charged against property there would soon be a time when Saanich taxes would not be much lower than the city's. He advocated assessment against persons between 21 and 60.

R. M. MacIntosh, a member of the delegation, said he did not think percentage of collections from persons between 21 and 60 would satisfy the cost of collection.

British-U.S. Lead Is Urged

Sir George Paish Says If Trade Barriers Dropped Dictators Would Go

If Britain and the United States would join together and throw their trade and money markets open to the whole world they would themselves benefit and they would see the dictatorships vanish, taking with them the grave threat of war and general chaos, Sir George Paish, noted British economist, told an audience which crowded First United Church last night.

The meeting was arranged by the Victoria branch of the League of Nations Society in Canada. Captain Elmore Philpott was in the chair.

Sir George said he believed that sooner or later the nations must come together and realize that the welfare of each depended on the welfare of the whole world.

The only alternatives were a new spirit of reason or a charnel house.

The wars in China and Spain, the rape of Czechoslovakia and the persecution of the Jews were only symptoms of a world drift which would end in economic and political disaster, wholesale slaughter and revolution unless action were taken to halt it, he

If the "have" nations did not take down their trade and money barriers, the "have-nots" would be forced to break through them by force of arms.

MAY LOSE NEXT WAR

"We may lose the next war," Sir George said bluntly.

Germany, Italy, Fascist Spain and Japan would make a combination stronger than any seen in the world before.

Germany and Italy were not fighting in Spain without a purpose. That purpose, he claimed, was to use the peninsula as the base for a vast fleet of planes and submarines which could control not only the Mediterranean but the whole Atlantic, starving Britain and crippling the United States.

In the 19th century Britain, by being the first to open her borders to the trade of all nations, had brought about an era of prosperity in which world trade, wealth and population had increased incredibly. Britain had literally built a whole world as well as an Empire.

Now the policies of Britain, the United States and the other "have" nations were largely to blame for the present world distress and danger.

ACTING AS MADMEN

"We have got to do a great deal of thinking and have a great change of policy. We must realize that what we have been doing in the past we have been doing as madmen, driving nations into distress and making them think of war," he said.

He recalled that he had himself in 1909 gone to Germany to confer with that country's financial leaders in an attempt to prevent a war, which he had seen even then to be imminent.

"That war was not an accident. . . . I tried to show the German statesmen that Germany itself would be desperately injured and that no one would gain. . . . It is fashionable nowadays to say that the allied nations were largely responsible for the war. That is not so. The Germans were."

Then Sir George said quietly he considered the present danger far greater than it had been then, for the first time every nation in the world faced bankruptcy and starvation. The world's economic experts who drew up the agenda for the abortive world economic conference of 1933 had said that if the nations did not reverse their policy of self-sufficiency the standard of life would be so greatly reduced in all countries that the existing social order could not be maintained.

ONLY PALLIATIVES

Every move to free purchasing power since 1914 had been a palliative, not a remedy, Sir George said. The United States had loaned $15,000,000,000 during the war years, which could never be repaid. He revealed that he had himself been instrumental in persuading the republic to change its policy of economic neutrality at that time in order to prevent the collapse of world trade. Between 1921 and 1929 the United States loaned another $10,000,000,000 and Britain £1,000,000,000, on very inadequate security.

From 1931 onward the countries had had to call up their ultimate reserves—the governments' own credits. This year alone the governments of the world were laying out $12,500,000,000 in an attempt to maintain buying power and with it trade. Soon the supply would be exhausted.

The only solution was for the public to open its eyes and see the reality of the situation, then start a campaign of education throughout the world for the removal of trade barriers.

"With a capacity for production such as the world has never seen before we are drifting toward bankruptcy and ruin. . . . .

"But I am convinced that leadership will be forthcoming for a time when there will be no more war. How soon that time comes depends on you."

PARCHMENTS FOR 3 OAK BAY BOYS

Scouts to Receive Humane Society Awards for Drowning Rescue

Parchment certificates of the Royal Canadian Humane Association have been awarded to three Oak Bay High School students: Donald Anderson, Robert E. Doe and Robert Travis, for the rescue of two men from drowning in Canoe Pass on July 16, Reeve R. R. Taylor of Oak Bay was informed in a letter received yesterday from the Provincial Secretary's office.

The three boys, who are members of St. Mary's Scout Troop, were encamped at Knapp Island this summer when they heard the cries of Christie Harrison and H. B. Staples, whose rowboat had overturned after springing a leak in open water, late at night.

Taking the only craft available, a small dinghy, the three boys risked their lives in the darkness pulling the two drowning men from the water and bringing them to shore.

It is planned to make a public presentation of the parchments.

Victoria Support For Jews Planned

A proposal to hold a meeting of protest over the German persecution of the Jews was endorsed last night by the large audience which gathered to hear an address by Sir George Paish in First United Church under the auspices of the Victoria branch of the League of Nations Society in Canada.

Capt. Elmore Philpott, chairman of the meeting, explained it was proposed to hold the protest rally on Sunday evening.

He said similar meetings had been arranged across Canada by the League of Nations Society.

TRAVEL BUREAU IS NEW NAME

The provincial government's publicity bureau in future will be known as the Government Travel Bureau.

A bill changing the name of this branch of the Department of Trade and Industry was introduced in the Legislature yesterday by Hon. W. J. Asselstine, the minister.

The trade extension bureau will henceforth be known as the Bureau of Industrial and Trade Extension.

The bill also enlarges the advisory tourist council from seven to 13 members, so that more people from country points can be included to advise the bureau on its tourist campaigns.

DOCTOR'S TESTS BEFORE MARRIAGE

Compulsory Examinations Will Be Called for In British Columbia

Compulsory medical examinations will be called for in British Columbia under amendments to the Marriage Act which will be brought down at this session of the Legislature, it was learned today.

Before a marriage is contracted the prospective bride and groom will have to submit to an examination by a doctor and the result of the examination will be made known only to them.

It is not proposed to forbid marriage where the examination discovers disease exists, but it is anticipated the knowledge made available to the contracting parties by the examinations will discourage weddings between couples where disease exists.

Municipality Wants Own Health Scheme

Matsqui Reeve Would Tax Residents $10 a year For Doctor's Care

Matsqui Municipality's scheme of health insurance, whereby its people would receive medical and surgical care for $10 a family per year, was outlined to the Legislative municipal committee this morning by Reeve George Cruickshank.

The scheme will only go into effect if the Municipal Act is amended and if voters of Matsqui give their approval by plebiscite.

Maternity care will be given, the Reeve explained, but specialist and hospital treatment will not be provided. The Reeve said two of the best doctors in British Columbia had expressed willingness to work for him at $600 a month each.

The Reeve said there were 1,650 persons who could be taxed if the scheme were approved. Persons on relief would come under the benefits. It was planned to tax nonresident property owners as well, but the reeve said he was willing to lift this for the success of the scheme.

Storm Over Story Of Babs Hutton

LONDON (AP)—British newsdealers today destroyed their copies of the December issue of Cosmopolitan Magazine to avoid possible legal action by Count Court Haugwitz-Reventlow, estranged husband of the former Barbara Hutton.

The count raised objections to an article called "The Truth About Barbara Hutton," one of a series by Elsa Maxwell, society's noted party-thrower.

The London Daily Mail reported the Woolworth heiress had collaborated in preparing the life story, but her representative here issued a denial.

AUTHORESS PLEASED

Reception for Party Leader

Maitland and Anscomb Address Conservative Meeting

Conservatives of Greater Victoria last night gave an enthusiastic reception to R. L. Maitland, K.C., Leader of the Opposition, and Herbert Anscomb, M.P.P., at a social gathering in the Conservative rooms, arranged by the Victoria Conservative Association in conjunction with the women's association and young Conservatives. W. H. M. Haldane presided.

Mr. Maitland advocated a constructive attitude on the part of Conservatives which would clarify the party's policies. He felt the Liberal Party had lost the confidence of the people.

A road policy divorced from politics was advocated. Every Conservative in the Legislature was sincere in his efforts to restore the Conservative Party into the thoughts of the people, Mr. Maitland said.

Mr. Anscomb referred to the harmony among the Conservative members. He prophesied failure for the redistribution plan, and added the Conservatives would not support the Public Utilities Bill.

The following contributed to a musical program arranged by Miss R. Parr of the Young Conservatives: Miss H. Harfield, Bob Bardley, Miss Cecile King, Mrs. Bert Noel, Miss Betty Mulliner, Miss Kay Fallowes and Miss Eileen Bowles.

Dr. J. D. Hunter, M.P.P., also spoke, and with Mrs. Hunter, E. V. Finland, M.P.P., and Mrs. Finland; Leslie Eyres, M.P.P., and Mrs. Eyres, and Capt. Macgregor Macintosh, M.P.P., and Mrs. Macintosh, attend as a guest. Mrs. S. R. Bowden was general convener of the evening's entertainment.

Coleman Sees Tourist Upswing

Royal Visit and Expositions Will Encourage Travel

Many factors point to a record tourist year in 1939, and D. C. Coleman, senior vice-president of the Canadian Pacific Railway, who reached Victoria this morning on his western inspection tour, shares that view.

The transport executive, who is accompanied by W. M. Neal, vice-president in charge of western lines, was met in Vancouver by Capt. R. W. McMurray, manager of the B.C. Coast Service.

"We anticipate an exceptionally good tourist year," said Mr. Coleman, following his arrival at the Empress Hotel.

"Naturally, travel will be speeded up by such events as the world's fair at New York and the Golden Gate exposition at San Francisco, and the forthcoming royal visit is bound to attract a lot of people to Canada."

On the question of transport development on the Pacific, Mr. Coleman confined himself to the remark that the company had in mind "a program for the replacement of certain older units of the fleet when construction conditions were more favorable."

No immediate changes were contemplated in the company's coastwise services, he said.

Replying to a question as to how the removal of the six-cent preference on wheat under the new trade treaties would affect Canadian railways, Mr. Coleman said: "It seems to be the opinion of the grain trade that the removal of the preference may lead to the diversion of some grain traffic from Canadian Atlantic ports. I do not know if that impression is well founded, and I could not hazard a guess as to the extent of the diversion if it does occur, but at any rate I do not believe that the removal of the preference will result in the diversion of any grain from Pacific ports."

Mr. Coleman declined to comment on the possible effect of the new treaties on freight routing. "We shall have to wait for the reactions of the primary producers and industrialists," he said.

Mr. Coleman said he expected to remain in the city for a couple of days.

Mrs. B. R. Williams, Westholme Hotel, escaped injury when struck by a street car at Yates and Douglas Streets shortly after 5.30 last night. She was crossing from the north to the south side of Yates street and fell in front of a car operated by George Earle. The cow-catcher of the street car was reported by eye witnesses to have saved her from serious injury. She was taken into the Vancouver Drug Company store and after resting a few minutes was able to proceed on her way.

Curry & Son had charge of arrangements.

Valencia Oranges Near Finish Here

The last car of the season of Valencia oranges from California was received at Wholesale Row yesterday. A carload of navel oranges is due tomorrow in addition to the first shipment of Mandarin oranges from the Orient, a [illegible] society arrived from the Okanagan yesterday along with a shipment of lemons and grapefruit from California. The grapefruit market is reported to be firmer.

There were no arrivals today, because of the holiday in the United States yesterday. Shipments of lettuce, broccoli and sweet potatoes are expected tomorrow from California.

IS NOW DOCTOR

The degree of Doctor of Philosophy from Oxford University was conferred upon James Alexander Gibson, above, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Gibson, 651 Trutch Street, at the November degree day, according to word reaching the city today. He was in England last May and June, completing the thesis for his doctorate, on which he had begun research during the academic year 1935-36, when he held a research fellowship from the Royal Society of Canada at New College, Oxford. He expanded some earlier studies into a full biography of Sir Edmund Walker Head, Governor-General of Canada from 1854 to 1861, and subsequently governor of the Hudson's Bay Company. Excerpts from this biography have already appeared in the Canadian Historical Review.

On his return to Canada in July Dr. Gibson was appointed to the Department of External Affairs at Ottawa as third secretary, and has since been attached to the office of the Prime Minister as an assistant principal secretary.

The conferring of the doctor's degree concludes a period of study at Oxford which began in 1931 when he first went to New College as Rhodes Scholar from British Columbia.

The same degree was conferred upon Dr. William Gibson, his brother, earlier in the year.

VANCOUVER (CP) — H. Upton was sentenced today to six months in jail after pleading guilty to forging the name of Attorney-General Gordon S. Wismer to a cheque.

Meters for Local Taxis

Rates Will Be Increased By 10 Cents a Call to Save Companies

Taxi rates in Victoria will be increased approximately 10 cents a call and meters will be used, if the recommendation of the municipal committee is accepted by the Legislature.

A. E. Chilton, representing the Taxi Operators' Association of Greater Victoria, told the committee unless rates were increased some of the taxi companies would be forced out of business. A number of local companies, he said, were paying out more in wages than they reaped in revenue.

Taxi drivers at present receive $3 for a 10-hour day.

In Vancouver, Mr. Chilton said, all taxis must have meters, and the rates were much higher than here. Even after the increase here Vancouver rates would still be much higher.

A. J. Paton, Conservative, Vancouver-Point Grey, asked how the rates would affect the individual "cars of ancient vintage—like old hacks," which he noticed in Victoria. Mr. Chilton said individual operators would benefit by the increase.

Mr. Chilton said proposed amendments would stop rate-cutting.

W. T. Straith, Liberal, Victoria, asked to be recorded as not voting in the matter.

Premier Announces New Women's Jail

Mrs. F. J. Rolston, president of the Provincial Council of Women, who headed a delegation which met the B.C. cabinet this morning, said the council's representations were very favorably received by the government.

Premier Pattullo told them an [illegible] a new jail for women to replace inadequate quarters at Oakalla prison farm.

BOWERMAN NEW RADIO CHIEF

Will Succeed E. J. Haughton Here On December 5

William J. Bowerman, supervising radio inspector at Vancouver, will succeed E. J. Haughton as district superintendent of the Radio Branch, Department of Transport at Victoria, it was announced here today. Mr. Bowerman has been in the government service for 26 years. The new appointment will take effect on December 5 when Mr. Haughton will step out of office after being identified with government radio in Victoria since 1907, when he joined the Gonzales radio station as operator. He was previously with the Canadian Pacific telegraphs, joining the service as messenger boy in 1888.

INTERVIEW WITH MURRIN DOUBTFUL

The date of a meeting between the City Council and W. G. Murrin, president of the British Columbia Electric Railway Company, tentatively set by the council last night for Monday, was in doubt today.

Efforts of city officials to reach Mr. Murrin today were unsuccessful, but it was learned from other sources he was scheduled to leave Vancouver for eastern Canada on Sunday night. His presence here is desired by the council before it reaches a decision on the petition from street railway employees seeking continuation of the present transportation system. There was a slight possibility he might be asked to come to the city tomorrow for an informal meeting with the council.

In a letter received from him today, Mr. Murrin informed the council:

"The company has no intention of trying to increase the present rate of fare during a period of extension, neither does it intend to take advantage of the extension in any way to evade any just responsibilities accruing under the franchise."

Chiang Urges New British Policy

Says China Will Turn Elsewhere If Support Denied

By LLOYD LEHBRAS
Associated Press Foreign Staff

SHANGHAI—General Chiang Kai-shek was said by Chinese sources Friday to have expressed dissatisfaction to the British ambassador over Great Britain's Far Eastern policies and to have hinted strongly the time for a showdown had arrived.

This was disclosed as the British ambassador, Sir Archibald Clark Kerr, returned to Shanghai from a conference with Chiang "somewhere in Hunan" province. Informed quarters said the conference might be the turning point in Anglo-Chinese relations.

Sir Archibald declined to discuss his talks with the General. Chinese sources said, however, Chiang told the ambassador Great Britain had failed to carry on the traditional Anglo-Chinese relationship.

He was said to have told Sir Archibald that unless British policies were changed and aid was forthcoming China would be forced to turn elsewhere. In that event, Chiang was reported to have said, Britain's dominance in China would fade.

PARTY CONVENTION

The Kuomintang is scheduled to open an important session at Chungking, temporary capital, early in December to determine China's foreign policy for the future. Chiang was said to have urged Great Britain to provide assurances of positive assistance.

Britain thus was placed in a dilemma, since Japan frequently has asserted Britain must change her Far Eastern policies to meet Japanese approval before peace and understanding can be achieved in the Orient.

Chiang was reported to have told Sir Archibald the loss of Canton had resulted largely from China's misplaced confidence, in view of past relations, that Britain would intervene if south China were threatened.

He was said to have called Sir Archibald's attention to the fact Great Britain had quickly granted a large loan to Czechoslovakia while China had been trying in vain for 16 months to obtain financial assistance from London.

ROBBERY CHARGE

Speedy trial of Henry H. Neilson, otherwise James Sharp, on a charge of attempted armed robbery, continued in County Court this afternoon with the case for the defence being offered.

Neilson was charged following an alleged attempt to rob P. Hubert Moonen, on the evening of October 22 at 1308 Douglas Street, where Moonen, his wife and two friends were playing cards.

An illustrated lantern lecture on "The Pyramid" will be given by Rev. S. R. Orr tonight at 8 in Burns Hall.

REEVE TAYLOR TO RUN AGAIN

Three Oak Bay Councillors Will Also Seek Re-election

Reeve R. R. Taylor and the three members of the Oak Bay Council whose terms expire this year will all seek re-election, they announced this morning after an informal conference last night.

Reeve Taylor explained he had wished to retire from the reeveship because of the call of business but the councillors had persuaded him to run for another term in view of the transportation, water and other questions which required a continuity of policy.

The three incumbent councillors are Richard Angus, William Ellis and P. Vernon Jackson.

So far no other candidates have made themselves known.

First Aid and Nursing Results

Results of a recent examination of a women's first aid to the injured class, held by the St. John Ambulance Association, Victoria Centre, have been announced. The lectures of this class were conducted by Capt. F. C. Pace, M.D., assisted by practical instructor P. Gleave. The examining doctor, Capt. G. L. Morgan Smith, was pleased with the high standard of proficiency of this class as evidenced in the general high marks obtained.

The results were as follows: Label, Mrs. Chas. E. Wilson; voucher, Mrs. Gertrude Davies; certificate, Miss Gloria Wilson, Mrs. Isabelle Young, Miss Elizabeth M. Hick, Miss Amelia A. Merritt, Mrs. Edith F. Knapp, Mrs. Rose May Fry, Mrs. Joyce LeHuquet, Miss Helen Stewart, Miss Dorothea Curtis, Mrs. Olive Painter, Miss Ines K. Carey, Miss Annie F. Innes, Miss Mary K. Poyntz, Miss Gertrude Snider, Miss Fern Dean and Mrs. Ira Walmsley.

Results of the recent examination of a home nursing class for women, held by the St. John Association, have also been announced. The lectures of this class were conducted by Miss B. Jenkins, R.N. The examining surgeon was Capt. G. L. Morgan Smith.

Certificates were awarded to Mrs. Emily Lambert, Mrs. Gertrude Neelands, Miss Clare Dyer, Miss May Fraser, Miss Isabel Cave, Miss Moya Bailey and Miss Jenowefy Keown.

The next classes in home nursing and first aid for women will be formed in the second week of January, full information of which may be obtained from the secretary of the Victoria Centre, G 5436.

Theft of money from a pin ball machine in Wachter's Cigar Store was reported to the city police last night. Entry of the E. & N. Railway station was also reported. The premises were ransacked, but there was nothing missing.

DO YOU S-T-R-E-T-C-H EVERY DOLLAR DO YOU BUY THRIFTILY?

—so that every cent of it does its work well? If you do, you know how all-important these questions of what, where and how to buy really are! You know that a real bargain is a standard piece of merchandise selling below the standard price. But did you know that the best and easiest way of finding real bargains is simply occupying your easy chair and checking every Times advertisement? BLACKSHIRT GROUP IN U.S. SCHOOLS

Oklahoma City Officials Informed "Bloodless Revolution" Is Hope

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — High school officials pressed an investigation of a blackshirt student movement and its plans for a so-called "bloodless revolution" today, but found the members defiant, depending on "the right of assembly and free speech to protect us."

The group, C ? C (Curiosity Club), advocates more liberal government and obliteration of class lines. They said there were units in Los Angeles, New York, St. Louis, Chicago and Youngstown, Ohio.

Two of the professed leaders, Milton Walser, 19, commissar, and Manford Ishmael, 18 assistant commissar, said the C ? C violated no laws, "but they hoped for a bloodless revolution to establish a new conomic system."

Concerning religion, they said: "Every member can have his own religion. However, most of us are atheists of panthelsts."

The group practices rifle and pistol shooting. The uniform consists of black shirts, black breeches and black boots. The girls dress as boys to emphasize belief in equality of sexes.

BITTER CAMPAIGN IN WINDSOR, ONT.

Mayor E. S. Wigle Opposed in Polls Contest by David Croll, M.P.P.

WINDSOR, Ont. (CP)— Windsor's mayoralty campaign has developed into a bitter personal contest between Mayor E. S. Wigle and David Croll, Liberal member of the Ontario Legislature for Windsor-Sandwich, with Roy C. Haight, the third announced candidate, confining himself to criticism of civic expenditures.

Col. Wigle has announced he has the support of Premier Mitchell Hepburn of Ontario and his government.

Mr. Croll, former minister of labor, relief and municipal affairs in the Hepburn cabinet, left the cabinet in 1937 when he opposed the Premier on the Committee for Industrial Organization issue. Mr. Croll was Mayor of Windsor for four years from 1931 to 1934.

Mr. Wigle in campaign addresses declared Windsor was on the eve of a great industrial development that would not materialize if Mr. Croll as a friend of the C.I.O. were elected.

"Labor throughout Canada and the United States is watching the outcome of the Windsor election," Steve Wallace, a Croll supporter, told a meeting. "If Croll is defeated in an industrial centre of the importance of Windsor look out for pressure from Toronto."

Polling is set for December 5.

RANGERS BEAT TORONTO, TAKE OVER HOCKEY LEAD

Thompson finished the scoring for Chicago and Bruneteau's penalty shot was saved by Goalie Mike Karakas in the dying moments.

A Thanksgiving Day crowd of 14,000 turned out at New York to watch young Bryan Hextall score twice and add three assists in Rangers' victory, for the most spectacular individual exhibition of the season. Rookie Dutch Hiller got two goals and an assist, and Phil Watson three assists to stamp the Hextall-Hiller-Watson line as one of the N.H.L.'s best in its first year.

FIRST FOR MUZZ

The great goals against average Turk Broda of the Maple Leafs had been compiling was knocked sky high by the Ranger barrage, but it was no fault of the Turk's. He had to take time out for repairs twice and no easy shots escaped him. Pep Kelly and Murph Chamberlain scored for the Leafs and Muzz Patrick was the Rangers' other goal-getter. It was his first goal of the season.

Canadiens, after absorbing a 7 to 3 beating from the Americans at New York Tuesday, stepped into a 2 to 0 lead in the first period in the return engagement on goals by Phil Haynes and Rod Lorrain. But their crushing defensive tactics and forward-line speed wore out as Tommy Anderson scored a goal in each of the second and third periods. The overtime was uneventful.

Summaries follow:

RANGERS-TORONTO

First period—1, Rangers, Hextall (Hiller, Watson), 13.37. Penalties: Hextall, Davidson, Fowler. M. Patrick, Kampman, M. Colville.

Second period—2, Rangers, M. Patrick (Hextall, Watson), 3.14; 3, Toronto, Kelly (Armstrong), 7.28; 4, Rangers, Watson (Hextall, M. Patrick), 11.56. Penalties: L. Patrick (major), Kampman (major), Watson (major), Davidson (major).

Third period—5, Rangers, Hextall, 13.23; 6, Toronto, Chamberlain (Jackson, Hamilton), 15.09; 7, Rangers, Hiller, 19.45; 8, Rangers, Hiller (Watson, Hextall), 19.58. Penalties: Chamberlain, Shibicky, M. Colville.

CANADIENS-AMERICANS

First period—1, Montreal, Haynes (Blake, Summerhill), 11.05; 2, Montreal, Lorrain (Brown, Cain), 18.33. Penalties: Jerwa (major), Brown.

Second period—3, Americans, Anderson (Stewart, Wiseman), 19.08.

Third period—4, Americans, Anderson (Stewart, Carr), 13.02.

Overtime period—No scoring.

DETROIT-CHICAGO

First period—No scoring. Penalty: Wiebe.

Second period—1, Detroit, Bruneteau (Wares, Goodfellow), 18.02; 2, Detroit, Howe (Bruneteau, Barry), 18.48. Penalties: Mackenzie, Motter, Levinsky.

Third period—3, Chicago, Desilets (Besler, Dahlstrom), 2.20; 4, Detroit, Abel (Kilrea, Kelly), 8.07; 5, Detroit, Howe (Barry), 13.11; 6, Chicago, Thompson (Seibert, Gottselig), 13.52. Penalties: Kelly, Karakas (penalty shot).

Eastern Football Finals Tomorrow

TORONTO—The bruised, battered contenders from the camps of Ottawa Roughriders and Montreal Nationals get a last chance tomorrow to do something about the eastern football final, which is conceded by everybody almost everywhere except Ottawa and Montreal to Toronto Argonauts and Sarnia Imperials.

Roughriders, a half-dozen of their stars severely bruised or ill, have the advantage of home grounds for the final stand stand against Argos in the Interprovincial Union playoffs. But they are eight points behind from the first game and Nationals have a four-point deficit to make up against Imperials at Sarnia.

BREN INQUIRY HEARINGS END

At Ottawa Commissioner Davis Starts Great Task Of Preparing Report

OTTAWA (CP)—With stacks of recorded evidence and documents before him, Mr. Justice H. H. Davis of the Supreme Court of Canada today began preparation of his report on the Bren gun contract.

After 36 days of testimony and argument, his inquiry as a royal commissioner into the arrangement into which the John Inglis Co. Limited of Toronto entered to supply the National Defence Department with 7,000 Bren light machine guns ended yesterday.

Although the inquiry ranged widely over questions of defence policy and relations between Canadian defence activities and those of the United Kingdom, it was narrowed down largely to the commissioner's duty to report the facts as disclosed in the evidence. Counsel agreed he should not make adverse findings against person in the absence of charges and an opportunity to answer charges.

Fair Wage Clause In Plane Contracts

LONDON (CP) — Captain Harold Balfour, under-secretary for air, replying to Valentine McEntee, Labor, said in the House of Commons yesterday that a clause equivalent to the British government's fair wage clauses was being included in contracts for the manufacture of aircraft in Canada for Great Britain.

The clause stipulates that rates of wages and conditions of employment shall comply with the practice prevailing in connection with contracts to which His Majesty's government in Canada is party.

Captain Balfour also told Mr. McEntee the aircraft ordered from Canada would be all-metal types.

Topeka, Kans., has a greater annual rainfall than that of London, England, a city noted for its drizzling rains and fogs.

Shirley Temple At Dominion

'Just Around the Corner' Said To Be Her Best Picture

There's so much to laugh at, so much to love, so many things to take away and remember in Shirley Temple's new picture, "Just Around the Corner," which opened at the Dominion Theatre today.

"Just Around the Corner" is not only the best picture Shirley Temple has appeared in, but also one of the most entertaining hits produced by the studio that has given so many pictures in the past.

Among those who share in all the fun are Charles Farrell, Joan Davis, Amanda Duff, Bert Lahr and the inimitable Bill Robinson.

Gable in 'Too Hot to Handle'

Thrills of war and aviation, hairbreadth escape in the wilds, and a love story of two thrill-craving souls combine in an action-packed piece of entertainment in "Too Hot to Handle," co-starring Clark Gable and Myrna Loy at the Capitol Theatre tomorrow.

Action ranges from New York and Shanghai to the high seas and Dutch Guiana jungles. Gable plays a newsreel cameraman, Miss Loy an aviatrix.

Jack Conway directed the picture. Walker Pidgeon plays Gable's principal rival. Walter Connolly and Leo Carrillo the two important comedy roles.

PLAZA THEATRE

Technical director for most of the authentic scenes and action in "Women In Prison," now at the Plaza Theatre, was a woman, a former inmate of a women's prison on parole, whose identity was kept secret by the studio at her request.

BUCKS REGAIN WINNING FORM

PORTLAND — Apparently on another winning rampage, the Portland Buckaroos had a new boast today besides a seven-point lead at the head of the Coast Hockey League—their record of 10 games without a defeat.

On home ice their old punch came back to Bucks last night as they lambasted the second-place Seattle Sea Hawks 6 to 3 for their first victory in four starts. However, their three previous contests have been deadlocked, thereby maintaining their undefeated record.

To date the league-leaders have won seven and tied three games, eclipsing their previous mark of nine consecutive wins and ties made in 1936.

The result gave the league-leaders a full seven-point margin over Sea Hawks, who hit the road for Vancouver, priming their guns for a contest with the Lions there tonight. Four points separate Seattle and Vancouver, while the Spokane Clippers still remain inactive pending change of ownership.

Trojans Smother California Squad

LOS ANGELES—Southern California's Trojans crushed the hapless Bruins of University of California at Los Angeles under a 42 to 7 score yesterday and immediately set up a clamor for the nomination as the Far West's representative in the Rose Bowl game.

Sixty-five thousand grid fans watched the Trojan machine gain momentum after a shaky first half, and hand the battling Uclans their worst beating in many a year.

The Southern California triumph wound up the Trojans' conference schedule and left them in a tie with California for the Pacific Coast conference championship. The 10 members of the league will now vote on which team, U.S.C. or the Golden Bears, will go into Pasadena's famed game next January 2.

KINGSTON, Jamaica — Fred Perry of Great Britain defeated Ellsworth Vines of the United States, three sets of four, in their exhibition professional match here yesterday. Scores were 6-4, 7-9, 7-5, 6-2.

"There are 212 dramas at Boys Town," now at the Atlas Theatre, Spencer Tracy was deadly serious as he made the statement.

"There are 212 boys at the juvenile community which was founded by Father Flanagan, and every one of them has a story that would tear your heart out. I know. I talked to most of the boys while we were making exteriors at Omaha. They aren't ashamed for their pasts, but their records would put most grown men to shame."

Cary Grant, who is co-starred with Irene Dunne in "The Awful Truth," romantic comedy showing at the Oak Bay Theatre today, plays piano better than most professionals. He can render more than 520 light opera selections by memory. He has a swell voice, too.

COLUMBIA THEATRE

Charles Starrett, screen star, probably saved the lives of both Donald Grayson and Iris Meredith, who appear with him in Columbia's "Outlaws of the Prairie," now at the Columbia, when, during production of the picture, the Western star stopped a runaway six-horse stage coach containing Grayson and Miss Meredith.

Cutters Stand By Freighter

40-Mile Gale Pounds Falmouth Off Connecticut Coast

NEW YORK (AP)—Three United States coastguard craft stood by today as the 251-foot freighter Falmouth, with 24 men aboard, was pounded by a 40-mile gale near South Norwalk, Conn.

Coastguard officers at Eaton's Neck said the stranded vessel was in no imminent danger and was awaiting for high tide before attempting to work free.

Earlier, coastguard officials had sighted another craft being taken into tow by a private vessel and had mistaken it, in snow mist, for the Falmouth.

The Falmouth had radioed twice—once at 12:55 that she was aground, and again at 1.07 that she was shipping water. A howling gale accompanied by a driving snowstorm had made visibility poor and hampered the search for the distressed vessel.

The Falmouth carries a crew of 30, is of 2,606 tons and is registered from Portsmouth, N.H.

VANCOUVER FERRY COLLIDES IN FOG

VANCOUVER (CP)—Groping her way through an early morning fog today, North Vancouver ferry No. 4 struck the stern of the Empire Stevedoring Company's ship Delta.

The accident caused only slight damage to the Delta. No one was injured.

North Vancouver Ferry Company officials said their vessel and the West Vancouver ferry were approaching docks as the New Delta was pulling away and all were moving slowly.

"There were four vessels, all drifting, in the right angle formed by the Canadian Pacific steamship docks and the wharf," Capt. J. A. McDonell of the New Delta said. "We first scraped the West Vancouver ferry. Later, the North Vancouver ferry gave us a slight bump in the stern."

The fourth vessel was the Ss. Northolm, a coastal freighter owned and operated by Frank Waterhouse and Company.

Double Honor For W. W. Swinden

MONTREAL—W. W. Swinden, general superintendent sleeping and dining car services of Canadian National Railways, has received official notification of his election as chairman of the advisory board of the American Association of Superintendents of Dining Cars. Mr. Swinden had previously acted as president of the association, which has its headquarters at Chicago, Ill., so this makes a double honor for a Canadian representative.

The association deals with all matters concerning railway dining car service and its meetings serve as a means of exchange of ideas. To some extent, but not entirely so, dining car practice has been standardized, although each road continues to maintain some special features. There is now under consideration a plan aiming at uniformity of dining car prices throughout certain defined zones.

Around The Docks

LOCHGOIL TOMORROW

Clearing from San Francisco Wednesday night, Ms. Lochgoil of Royal Mail Lines, is expected to make Victoria about noon tomorrow, according to Adam Moffat, general agent.

Lochgoil has five passengers aboard, Mrs. U. King-Baker, Mrs. E. M. Turnbull, through travelers from London to Vancouver, and Mr. and Mrs. R. V. Larson from Los Angeles, and Miss A. Macklin from San Francisco.

The ship has 150 tons of general cargo for discharge at the Rithet Docks and on completing here will shift to Vancouver.

BIG DELFDYK LIST

The largest list of passengers brought here by a Dutch vessel for some time will arrive by Ms. Delftdyk, of the Holland-America Line, which is scheduled to reach Victoria December 9.

The ship's full accommodation is occupied mostly by Germans, some of whom are reported to be Jewish refugees en route to the United States via Seattle.

The list includes Dr. and Mrs. Carl Brieger and Master G. H. Brieger, Dr. R. F. Merzeach and Mrs. G. Merzeach, Mrs. E. Kahn, Mrs. K. Kahn, M. Kahn, Emil Kahn and Ernst Kahn; Dr. and Mrs. W. Hassauer, Mr. and Mrs. Kurt Ries and Master Ries, H. Uhlfelder, Mr. and Mrs. L. Aufhauser, Miss A. Aufhauser, Mr. and Mrs. G. Keriel and Master H. Keriel.

RUSSIA SAILING

Carrying a heavy Christmas mail for the Orient, Ss. Empress of Russia, Capt. J. F. Patrick, will get away from the Rithet docks about 5.30 tomorrow evening.

She will steam direct for Japan, China and the Philippines, arriving at Yokohama December 8, Shanghai December 12, Hongkong December 15 and Manila December 19.

The Russia's passenger list will be light.

EVENTFUL VOYAGE

Completing an eventful voyage, Ms. Hie Maru of the N.Y.K. fleet, reached William Head at 6.30 this morning from Japan. After getting pratique the motorship proceeded about 8 for Vancouver.

There were about 60 passengers aboard and 3,200 tons of cargo will be discharged at Vancouver for overland delivery.

Hie Maru was delayed at sea when an operation for peritonitis was performed on a 15-year Japanese girl, who subsequently died.

The liner was badly buffeted by a typhoon when off Japan on her last outward voyage, the purser suffering injury, it was reported.

Christmas Mails

Christmas mails for Hongkong and China should be posted not later than 4 p.m. tomorrow, November 26, in order to be in time for Christmas delivery, George H. Gardiner, postmaster, announces. The mails will be carried by Ss. Empress of Russia and will reach Shanghai December 12 and Hongkong December 15.

The mail following that of Ss. Empress of Russia will be dispatched per Ss. Empress of Japan on December 10, which will not reach Shanghai until December 27 and Hongkong December 30.

Royalty to Attend Battleship Launch

LONDON (CP-Havas)—Buckingham Palace anounced last night the King and Queen will attend the launching at Newcastle-on-Tyne, next February 21, of the battleship King George V.

After the ceremony, Their Majesties will tour northeastern England, it was announced.

The King George V is one of five 35,000-ton battleships being built under the 1936 and 1937 naval programs. The others, all begun in 1937, are the Prince of Wales, Anson, Jellicoe and Beatty.

NEW SHIP LINE ACROSS PACIFIC

Carpenter Line to Operate From this Coast to South Seas

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Establishing of a new shipping service between Pacific coast ports and the South Seas was announced here today by agents of the Carpenter Line, owned by W. R. Carpenter and Company Ltd., of Sydney, N.S.W.

Erik Krag, vice-president and general manager of the Inter-Ocean Steamship Corporation, agents for the Carpenter Line, said the company would maintain a regular service in this trade with a minimum of four sailings a year.

The new 4,920-ton steamer Suva will inaugurate the service with a sailing from San Francisco January 7 for Apaia, Suva, Lautoka, Tavua and Rabaul. The Suva is now enroute to Vancouver, B.C., on her maiden voyage from Rotterdam.

The Carpenter Line also owns the motorships Rabaul and Salamaua, in addition to a number of smaller vessels.

SALMON PACK

VANCOUVER (CP) — The British Columbia salmon pack for this season totaled 1,696,154 cases November 19, compared with 1,489,839 on the corresponding date last year, according to the weekly bulletin issued by the chief supervisor of fisheries here. This is an increase of 206,315 cases over last year, but a decrease from the 1936 total of 1,848,061.

The largest gain was shown in sockeye, which totaled 439,698 cases this year, an increase of 118,633. Pinks dropped off heavily, with only 398,847 cases packed this year, compared with 573,835 in the same period of 1937.

Bank of Commerce Business Grows

$14,032,000 Increase in Current Loans and $28,866,000 in Deposits

The annual balance-sheet of the Canadian Bank of Commerce shows increases in current loans in Canada of $14,032,000 and in commercial and savings deposits of $28,866,000 as at October 31 last, the date on which the bank's financial year now ends and a month earlier than in former years. Total assets, amounting to $655,233,291, register an increase of $14,334,000 over last November.

Among the assets, cash holdings have risen $3,965,000 to $71,294,688, including $58,415,986 of deposits with the Bank of Canada and $9,739,611 of notes of that bank. These holdings with $17,881,738 of cheques on other banks and $27,882,058 of bank balances in the United States and elsewhere total $117,058,484, an increase of $6,533,000 over a year ago. With the increase in commercial business there has been a net decrease of $3,265,000 in the bank's holding of securities, which now amount to $259,592,540.

Holdings of Dominion and provincial government securities maturing within two years have declined by $8,208,000 to $80,923,094, while similar securities with longer maturity have risen by $2,599,000 to $116,133,058. All other categories of security holdings have risen slightly, those of Canadian municipalities by $709,000 to $9,763,617, public securities other than Canadian by $1,289,000 to $27,771,848, and all other securities by $346,000 to $25,000,921. Call loans in Canada are down $3,494,000 to $15,481,367, while those elsewhere are up $2,418,000 to $15,839,535. The items given above constitute in the main the quick assets of the bank, which amount this year to $409,038,927, an increase of $2,030,000 over last year. These quick assets are equivalent to 66 2-3 per cent of total liabilities to the public and indicate that, while the bank has increased its lending operations, it has maintained a high degree of liquidity.

Current loans in Canada amount to $163,508,458, an increase of $14,032,000 over November, 1937. Those made elsewhere, however, have declined $3,199,000 to $17,913,122. Loans to municipalities are up $2,506,000 to $22,765,832, while loans to provincial governments are down $1,104,000 to $8,349,007. The remaining items on the assets side of the statement show little change.

The largest item on the liabilities side is interest-bearing deposits by the public, which amount to $366,766,804, an increase of $9,873,000 over November, 1937.

DIVIDENDS

NEW YORK (AP)—Directors of Anaconda Copper Mining Company today declared a dividend of 25 cents a share on common stock, payable December 22 to holders of record December 6. The dividend will bring 1938 disbursements to 50 cents a share, compared with $1.75 in 1937.

Wheat

WINNIPEG (CP) — Canadian wheat export sales, estimated at 300,000 bushels, gave wheat futures a strong undertone here today. At the final bell values were ¼ to ⅛ cent lower, November 59, December 58⅜, May 61 to 61⅛ and July 61¾ to 61⅞.

Generally traders had little to do. Lack of outside market influence and narrow fluctuations at Liverpool, Buenos Aires and Chicago accounted for a dull session.

Liverpool closed unchanged to ½d down. Buenos Aires was ¼ higher to ¼ lower.

Southern hemisphere weekly wheat shipments were almost 1,000,000 bushels higher. Argentina cleared 628,000 bushels, mostly to non-European countries, and Australia shipped 1,539,000. Black Sea clearances, including 416,000 bushels of South Russia wheat totaled 2,088,000, compared with 2,496,000 the previous week.

Cash wheat transactions also were thin. Coarse grains failed to move out of the rut. Prices were firm.

CHICAGO (AP)—Houses with export connections led a buying movement in the corn market today and prices climbed a cent a bushel, but failed to hold well.

Arrivals of corn in Chicago continued scanty, and corn belt weather conditions were deemed unfavorable. Wheat values declined, influenced by month-end liquidating sales.

Calgary Oils

CALGARY—Oil shares were steady to somewhat higher on the Calgary Stock Exchange today. Transfers totaled 10,000 shares for the morning.

Home, after opening at 1.21, had a noon close of 1.23, a four point gain over Thursday. Five thousand shares of National Pete went at 6 and Okalta, bought in light volume, closed unchanged at 1.05.

Royal Canadian with sales of 2,600 shares closed at 17.

Buying In Aircrafts

NEW YORK (CP) — Buying forces tuned in on aircrafts and specialties during today's stock market session, and paid scant attention to many recent leaders.

Gains ran to two or more points for favorites in the forenoon, but numerous issues stepped down from their best marks at the last and minor declines were plentiful.

Weakness of the British pound and French franc in terms of the dollar served to revive speculative wariness, as the thought arose maybe the Munich peace might not prove to be so permanent. Hoarding and buying of dollars abroad brought another boost in gold at London to a new high record figure.

Activity was slow throughout, although a number of low-priced issues turned over in large blocks in the morning. Transfers approximated 850,000 shares.

New highs for the year were posted for United Aircraft, Sperry, Aviation Corp., Consolidated Aircraft, Richfield Oil, Dunhill and Safeway Stores, among others.

Most steels, rails, utilities and coppers plodded along a narrow route.

Bonds were mixed, as were commodities. Wheat at Chicago lost ⅜ to 1 cent a bushel. Near mid-afternoon sterling was off 2 1-16 cents at $4.64 3-16. The French franc was down .01⅛ of a cent at 2.59⅞.

PAPERS RESIST DIP

MONTREAL (CP) — Steady selling shook the stock market down today for losses of fractions to as much as a point.

A few papers managed to resist the trend as fractional gains showed in Bathurst at 9 and Price Brothers at 19½. Behind narrowly were United Steel, Canada Cement and Imperial Oil.

Late demand for Noranda brought a point-gain at 82, while Nickel and Hudson Bay mining sold off slightly. Fractional declines showed for National Steel Car, Canadian Car, C.P.R. and Dominion Steel B.

Firm utilities included Brazilian and Shawinigan. Gatineau dropped more than a point to 13.

TURNOVER HIGHER

TORONTO (CP) — General improvement was displayed by Toronto Share Market today and while volume was still small it more than doubled Thursday's turnover.

Malartic Goldfields, a feature, traded heavily at a gain of about 7 cents to 65.

Gains of 4 to 10 cents showed for Macassa, Bralorne, Pamour, Hard Rock, Hedley, Kerr-Addison, MacLeod-Cockshutt, Perron, Powell-Rouyn and McKenzie. The market was off slightly for Teck-Hughes, Wright - Hargreaves, Pickle Crow and Read-Authier.

Gains showed for Waite-Amulet, Jack Waite and Falconbridge.

Imperial Oil and International Petroleum closed steady.

Strong spots in the Western oil group included Royalite, Calgary-Edmonton, Okalta, Home, Davies and Foothills.

Wild Turkeys

Since the turkey is a bird of the New World, we may ask, "Why was it given the name of a country in the Orient?"

Scholars have tried to find the answer to that question, but instead of finding one answer they found three!

Some say it came about because some persons in Europe were in the custom for a time of calling the New World "Turkey."

Another possible way to explain the name is by the call of the wild turkey—"turk, turk!" It may be that this led people to name the birds turks or turkeys.

A wild turkey.

The most modern theory runs in this way: Guinea fowls from Africa were obtained by Turkish traders, and then were sent from Turkey to western Europe. People in Great Britain called the guinea fowls "turkeys" or "turkey cocks." Later, when the North American birds were taken to Europe, they were given the same name as the guinea fowls.

Whatever is the true reason for the name, the turkey is a native of our continent. It is the only fowl North America has given to the world's barnyards.

In olden days, wild turkeys were common in many places — from southern Mexico and central America to southern Canada. Early settlers and explorers used to shoot them for food. Today they are not common anywhere north of Mexico, though they are seen now and then in some southern and east-central parts of the United States. Recently a Pennsylvania hunter was arrested for shooting turkeys which belonged to a wild turkey colony started by the government.

Cortez and other Spaniards who entered Mexico in early days reported that the natives had flocks of turkeys. The Indians kept the birds mainly for the purpose of being able to use their feathers.

There are thousands of wild turkeys in Mexico. They make their home in the woodlands of both highlands and valleys. Their food is made up of nuts, acorns, berries, grass, insects, frogs and lizards.

The nesting season for wild turkeys comes in early spring, and at that time there are fights among the gobblers. The hens build their nests in secret places, usually under a bush or beside a log. The nest is a shallow hole lined with leaves. The young learn to fly in about two weeks.

Our domesticated turkeys have been traced to the wild turkeys of Mexico, which differ from those of central America. A 20 pound turkey is a large one, but turkeys weighing from 35 to 40 pounds are on record.

HOROSCOPE

Saturday, November 26, 1938.

Benefic aspects dominate today, according to astrology. The stars encouarge the prolongation of the holiday spirit and provide stimulating influences where love affairs are prevalent.

University students should benefit under this direction of the stars which seems to presage access of ambition, increase in popularity and success in making ends meet.

Recreation will be more widely sought than usual and theatres will benefit.

Speakers will enjoy unprecedented popularity through the winter. College professors will be in demand as analysts of world trends.

While intellectuals interpret contemporary history the stars seem to foretell events unfavorable to dictators. The League of Nations is to gain support.

In the horoscope of Chancellor Hitler astrologers discern threatening portents. Next summer may be a time of danger to his highest ambitions. An accident or illness has been prophesied.

Mussolini is subject to a planetary government much more fortunate than that of Hitler. The Italian dictator may gain world acclaim by an act of astute statesmanship early next year.

Girls may expect to register strongly in association with young men under this configuration which promises intense and speedy declarations of heart interest.

Persons whose birthdate it is have the augury of a year of prosperity and increase of personal prestige. Both men and women will progress toward desirable goals.

Children born on this day probably will be highstrung but kindly and talented, though difficult to direct. Subjects of this sign of Sagittarius may be dreamers as well as doers.

SIDE GLANCES By George Clark

"You might as well stop that, Waldo! Daddy isn't going to carry you."

Dorothy Dix's Letter Box

DEAR DOROTHY DIX—We have recently moved to a small town where the company my husband is with has built up a little village of 30 houses and a country club. The place is lovely, but I am unhappy because the other people are different from us. They are younger, with either no children or one or two children at most. They drink and smoke and do things that my husband and I do not do. I am 37. Have four children, one a girl in college, and although my husband makes a good salary, we are not able to entertain like the ones who have no family. I have tried to be friendly with these people, but we just don't click. When there is a party I am left out. Since I realized I wasn't making friends I have just stayed to myself. I cry and beg my husband to leave and try to find a position somewhere else. I want to go back to my old home. I know he is worried because I am not happy and it does not do his work any good. He is highly valued by the company. What would you do if you were me? MRS. X.

Answer: Well, I hope that if I were you I would have enough courage and common sense and affection for my husband to act like a reasonable human being instead of a silly cry-baby, to meet the situation with a grim determination to make the best of it instead of a gust of tears.

Haven't you enough sense to realize that you are ready to jeopardize the whole future of your family just because you think some woman has snubbed you; because you are homesick for Mother and the girls and your old bridge foursome and your church sewing circle? Don't fool yourself into thinking that if you force your husband into giving up the good job he has he can step out and pick up another one just as good back home. Good jobs are hard to get these times, and they are not handed out to men who are so henpecked by their wives that they can't be depended upon to do anything except what their wives want them to do. Squawmen are not highly regarded by employers.

Probably all of us would prefer to live among the people we have known all of our lives and whose ways and habits are our ways and habits. But that good luck happens to comparatively few. Most of us have to go where our fortune calls us. If we have any intelligence whatever, or any character or backbone, we adapt ourselves to the conditions under which we must live and to the people with whom we must associate.

IN FIVE-HOUR BATTLE AGAINST GEORGIAN BAY GALE—When the fishing tug Papoose with the Frankie L. in tow ran into a gale on Georgian Bay, Capt. W. H. Oldfield, 71-year-old skipper of Thornbury, and Barton Vankoughnet of Collingwood, were forced to burn over $100 worth of fishing corks when their fuel ran out between the Christian Islands and Thornbury. They finally limped into Thornbury with the crew of four and a girl passenger aboard the Frankie L. safe, although Capt. Oldfield remarked "Another half mile and we were done," for the Papoose had sprung a leak early in the gale. He and Engineer Vankoughnet had pumped continuously with hand pumps to empty the hold. When they docked after a five-hour battle with 10-foot waves, there were only 35 pounds of steam and no water in the boiler. Shown are Capt. Oldfield and Engineer Vankoughnet, the tug, and William Nye holding some of the fishing corks which were used for fuel.

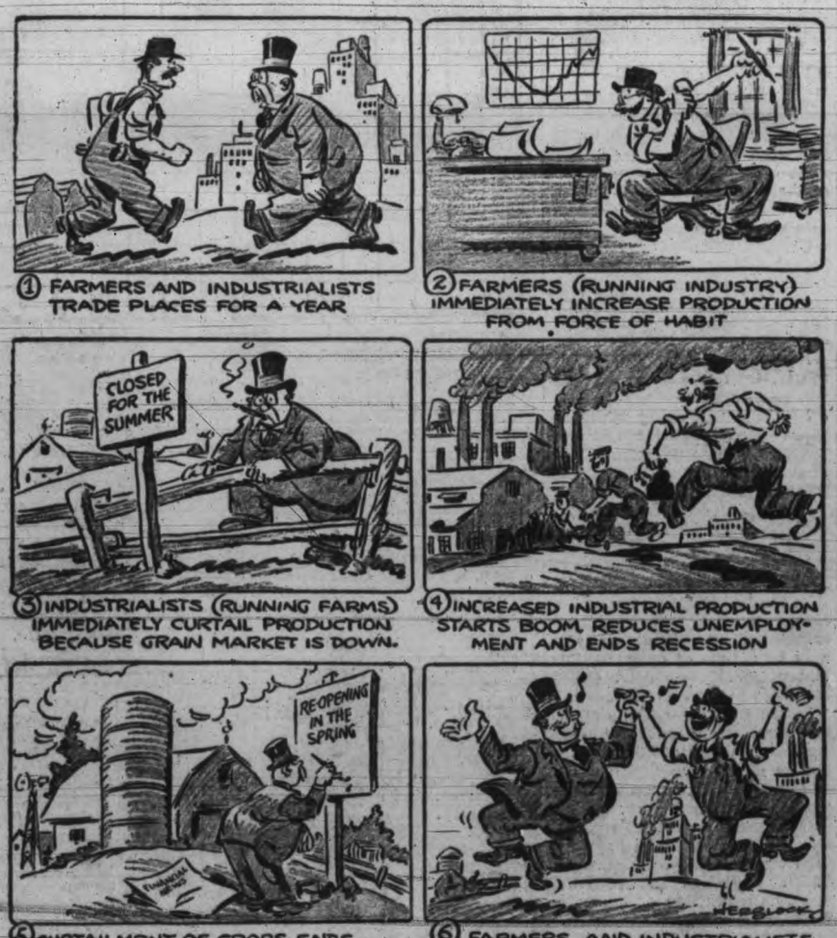
Simple Solution to Our Economic Problems



① FARMERS AND INDUSTRIALISTS TRADE PLACES FOR A YEAR

② FARMERS (RUNNING INDUSTRY) IMMEDIATELY INCREASE PRODUCTION FROM FORCE OF HABIT

③ INDUSTRIALISTS (RUNNING FARMS) IMMEDIATELY CURTAIL PRODUCTION BECAUSE GRAIN MARKET IS DOWN.

④ INCREASED INDUSTRIAL PRODUCTION STARTS BOOM, REDUCES UNEMPLOYMENT AND ENDS RECESSION

⑤ CURTAILMENT OF CROPS ENDS SURPLUS PROBLEM, MAKING POSSIBLE NEW FARM PROSPERITY.
